POLITICAL AFFAIRS.

The Gathering of Soldiers and Sailors in Philadelphia.

A Cordial Greeting from the Quaker City.

Grand Mass Meeting at Independence Hall.

SOLDIERS AND SAILORS.

Assembling of the Delegates to the Convention—Gen. Burnside to Preside—Baltimore Roughs, their Acts and Treatment.

Special Dispatches to the New-York Times.

PHILADELPHIA, Thursday, Oct. 1—Noon.

The City of Brotherly Love is decked in her gayest attire. From hundreds of buildings and windows, and flagstaffs, banners and streamers are floating in the wind, while the balmy October sunshine smiles on the thousands who teem in the streets below. All morning the air has been resonant with the music of bands and the tap of the drum, and each moment has announced the arrival of some new delegation. Sometimes they push through the thoroughfares with sturdy step, in full uniform, and sometimes in regular procession in plain citizen's dress. But they are all "Boys in Blue," and gathering to swell the throng which will fill the city by to-morrow morning, from nearly all parts of the Union, but particularly from Pennsylvania. The delegations are coming in numbers all the way from a squad of five to a battalion of fifteen hundred strong. New-Jersey has just sent in a requisition for one thousand tickets to feed her delegation at National Hall, which has been thronged since daylight with hungry men, who seem to make no impression upon the supply of refreshments provided by the hospitality of the people. The Committee charged with providing quarters have had their hands full, but everybody is finding a place, and everybody will have enough to eat.

PROMINENT ARRIVALS.

Prominent arrivals have become so numerous as to make it quite impossible to mention them. Gen. Burnside, Gov. Curtin, and Ex-Gov. Solomon, of Wisconsin, arrived this morning; also, Gens. Thayer, Farnsworth, Negley, McAllister, Jardine, Dennison and King. Gov. Hawley will be here to-night. It is probable that Gen. Burnside will be President of the Convention. At present indications there will be twenty thousand veterans here, at the lowest estimate, by to-morrow noon, all of whom, beside civilian organizations, will participate in the great torchlight procession in the evening.

THE DELEGATIONS.

Among the delegations who arrived this morning are the following: New-Jersey delegation, fifteen hundred strong, Gen. McAllister, aided by Gen. Jardine; West Virginia, Gen. Capehart; Maryland delegation, six hundred strong, Gen. Dennison in command; Delaware delegation, five hundred strong, Gen. Grimshaw in command; Illinois delegation, Gen. Farnsworth; Indiana delegation, Col. Humphrey, one hundred strong; and the following county delegations from Pennsylvania: Blair, Centre, Armstrong, Franklin, Cumberland, Warren, Indiana, Elk, Lycoming, Luzerne, Wayne, Perry, Snyder, Dauphin, Lancaster, Delaware, Montur, Union and Northampton, each from twenty-five to one hundred strong, or about one thousand men all told. Then there were Alleghany County, three hundred strong, under command of Col. E. F. Morgan; Chester County, three hundred and fifty men, and a battalion of seventy-five scarred veterans from Louisburg, with the tattered flags of the Ninety-third Pennsylvania Volunteers borne by a one-armed color-bearer.

BALTIMORE ROUGHS.

The spirit of the rebellion cannot brook this demonstration without showing its teeth. Dispatches have been received here this morning warning the "Boys in Blue" to look out for Plug Uglies and Blood Tubs from Baltimore. They tried yesterday to come over in the guise of "Boys in Blue" by buying their tickets, but that didn't succeed. They then purchased one hundred tickets at $3 each, regular fare, and took the 7 P. M. train, which connects with the Philadelphia train from Washington. On the latter were two car loads of "Boys in Blue," some of whom were colored. Shortly after leaving Baltimore a gang of the roughs entered the car where the colored men were, and began singing rebel songs, closing by cheers for Seymour and Blair. One of the colored men then responded by three cheers for Grant and Colfax, when he was struck on the head by a club which the bullies had concealed in papers. An affray immediately ensued, in which two colored men were somewhat injured by clubs, and one of the bullies badly stabbed, another knocked off the train when going at twenty-five miles an hour, and the rest driven back into their own car. The conductor was notified and requested to stop the train and eject the rioters, but he declined, for fear of the consequences. The detectives and Police were notified and were on hand to spot them. During the night and up to noon fifty-six of the roughs had been arrested and put behind bars. Hon. Galusha A. Grow, Chairman of the Pennsylvania Central Committee, has been advised that more of them are leaving Baltimore to-day, and I have just seen two or three of the brutal-looking low-lived villains sauntering through the halls of the Continental. The enthusiasm and the crowd are hourly increasing, and the demonstration will be one of the finest of the campaign. Everybody is terribly in earnest.

The Welcome of Philadelphia—Speeches of Mayor McMichael and Gen. Barnum—Proposed Democratic Reception of the Baltimore Roughs.

THURSDAY, 5 o'clock P. M.

Still they come! Banners, music, soldiers everywhere. At 3 o'clock most of the delegations marched to Independence-square to be received by the Mayor. This historic ground was most appropriately prepared for the occasion. Three grand stands had been erected, and a double line of bunting was festooned on the trees, clear through from the rear door of the Hall to Walnut-street. Everywhere the stars and stripes predominated, typifying the patriotism and loyalty of the occasion and its participants. When the delegations had arrived and the bands had ceased playing, Gen. Collis introduced Mayor McMichael, who welcomed the soldiers in the following speech:

MAYOR MCMICHAELS' ADDRESS.

Soldiers and Sailors: Standing in the shadow of the venerable edifice near to the consecrated hall in which the foundations of our Republic were established, on this hallowed spot where the Declaration of Independence was first publicly proclaimed, and so surrounded by these tokens of vindicated nationality, I proffer to you, in behalf of the loyal people of Philadelphia, who reverently cherish the Union that you manfully defended, an earnest and heartfelt welcome. That welcome has already been expressed in the booming of the cannon that announced your arrival, and in long processions of your former associates by whom you were conducted hither; in jubilant strains of music that enlivened your progress; in mute but eloquent emblems that sparkled with memorials of your merits; in masses of sympathizing men and women that surged along the streets over which you passed; in radiant smiles that were showered upon you, and loud resounding huzzas that still linger in your ears. And, in comparison with these, any words that I might utter would seem tame and spiritless. Happily, however, even apart from these enthusiastic demonstrations, words are not needed to assure you of the pleasure we feel in having you with us, or the purpose we hold to give you a hospitable reception and entertainment. Many of you have seen, and all of you have heard that while the war of the rebellion lasted it was our privilege, in an unusual degree, to cheer the "Boys in Blue" on their march; to provide for them food and rest and helpful comforts; to solace them with tender attentions when sick, and when God willed that they should die here, away from friends who loved them, and homes which they loved, to soothe their passage to the grave by gentle ministrations and affectionate solicitude; and now that actual war has been succeeded by war of ideas, recognizing, as we do, in the motives that have brought you here, the same patriotic impulses that then inspired you, and believing that the influence of your presence will largely aid in achieving the moral triumph, not less important than that triumph which crowned your arms, we rejoice in your coming, and gladly render you thanks and courtesy and service.

Veterans, they who sought to dampen your energies and cripple your efforts in the field; they who denounced the holy war in which you were engaged as an impious aggression, and, in the period of its highest glories, pronounced it a failure; they who, in the midst of your toils and sacrifices, mocked at and reviled you as hirelings and ruffians; they who would have left you to starve in squalid prisons, and allowed your dead comrades to rot unburied where they fell, and withheld from their widows and orphans means of scanty subsistance—they now dare to charge you that you falsely pretend to be soldiers, and that the object of your visit is to perpetrate the worst political crime of which freemen can be guilty. Insolent audacity! unparalleled effrontery! I scorn to waste breath on such calumny. Let the universal acclaim with which you have been greeted—let the glowing testimonials of admiration and respect which has been this day paid to you—let the Governors and Ex-Governors of loyal States who unite in this celebration—let the delegations of eminent civilians, who have come from distant places to do you honor, and, above all, let your own mutilated forms, your scarred visages and your own swelling bosoms, in which imperishable memories of suffering and success in the past are mingled with sentiments of just indignation in the present, and purposes of stern retribution in the future, be an all-sufficient answer.

Soldiers and sailors, speaking for the majority of my fellow-citizens, I say to you that, notwithstanding these base ascriptions, we regard your presence here as no less honorable to yourselves, no less ominous to the foe that was in your presence at those grand battles by sea and by land, to which your valor and the valor of those who wrought and won with you, have given you a world-wide and enduring renown. When the insane fury of the rebellion attempted by military force to destroy the National Government, you freely offered your lives for its protection; and now that the insane fury of defeated rebels, stimulated and sustained by odious incitements of Northern allies, once more menace its integrity, you are anxious to attest your determination to maintain it at any legitimate cost, and every necessary hazard. It is well that this is so. It is well that the gallant spirits who rushed to the front to rescue the nation when the fire and the sword were employed against it, should again be among its most zealous defenders, when false doctrines and evil teachings and revolutionary plottings threaten it with violent disturbance. And with such an array on the side of the right, who can doubt the issue of the conflict. As I gaze on this vast assemblage, composed, as it is, of men who stormed Donelson and scaled Lookout, and penetrated the thick jungles of the Wilderness; men who marched with Sherman and rode with Sheridan, and bled with Sickles and conquered with Meade—men who sailed and fought with Dupont and Farragut and Porter and Worden—men who, along the windings of Western rivers and amid rocky cliffs and wooded ravines of Southern mountains and among swampy hollows of Southern plains, performed prodigies of daring, and bore with fortitude and patience the pangs of hunger and ravages of fever, I know that you bring with you prestige of victory, and I am confident that as good and true men of all pursuits, occupations and classes participate in your feelings and will join in your action. Before the ides of November your great commander will be chosen President; and when that thrice fortunate result shall have been attained, the peace for which you have struggled and the country yearns will be followed by harmony and prosperity in all sections of the land—peace that will bind up the wounds and assuage the griefs of distracted communities—peace, that will secure to all who dwell upon our soil, of all climes, castes, creeds, and complexions, absolute equality before the law—will be permanently settled, and this mighty empire compacted and perfected, and knit together by indissoluble bonds, and stronger, and wiser, and better for the troubles through which it has passed, and will start afresh on its magnificent career; and under the leadership of the hero and statesman whose tried courage and approved judgment preëminently qualify him for the post, will press forward toward that foremost place among the Powers of the earth, to which by its magnitude, its strength, its wealth, its intelligence, its resources, it is fairly entitled. Again, brave soldiers and sailors, brave defenders and protectors of the flag that in your hands often torn, has never been tarnished, again and again, I bid you welcome.

The response was then made most eloquently by Gen. Barnum, Chairman of the National Committee, as follows:

REPLY OF GEN. BARNUM.

Mr. Mayor, and the People of Philadelphia: For the hundred thousand veterans of the war whom you to-day welcome to your far-famed city, I thank you for your kindly greeting. The name of your noble city is cherished by every Boy in Blue who survives the war, and your people enshrined in their hearts. The loyal hands who hurried to the defence of the capital when treason first flashed its lurid light across the Southern sky, drank at your fountains, ate at your tables and received your heartfelt "God-speed." And the last bronzed veteran of the war, returning to the home he had preserved, partook of your boundless hospitality. We stand to-day in a sacred presence. Here were born our liberties, and the clangor of yonder bell, proclaiming the liberty of America, blends in our memories, with the echo of the guns of Gettysburg. Maintaining that liberty, it is fitting then that to-day we should gather here and join with you in the high resolve, that the battle-born and battle-saved liberty of our country shall be passed to our children unimpaired; aye, more than this, let us realize that we are a privileged generation. To us has been given the opportunity to perfect the liberty which our fathers exhibited. Already, by the grand victories of our armies, have we established the absolute safety of our Government from armed attack, whether from within or without, it remains for us to so entrench the liberties of our country by righteous and just constitutions and laws, that equal and complete freedom, justice and civil rights shall prevail through the land. If I know the temper of our grand old army, if I read aright your presence here, my comrades, you will never, never cease your efforts until the absolute freedom which you enjoy here in Philadelphia, is secured to every good citizen of the Republic in every hamlet of the land, be he millionaire or common laborer, educated or ignorant, white or black. We have passed the conflict of arms, but we are now at the height of the battle of principles. But now we meet the same foe in civil garb. Added to the rebel army South is the rebel army North. During the war the "Boys in Blue" whipped the one, and the loyal North whipped the other. To-day the allies are joined. To-day every Copperhead North who hissed his hate at the very sight of a "Boy in Blue" marching to the front, the rioters of New-York City, the hotel burners, the St. Albans murderers, join with the unsubdued treason South, and, constituting the so-called Democratic Party, are forming their line for November's battle. And, forming for a grand attack on this combined enemy of peace and good government, are the victorious "Boys in Blue" and their loyal allies. With poetic justice the leaders of these hosts are chosen. He whose very name is a synonym for all that opposes the war North, commands the cohorts of treason, while the Great Captain, who never knew defeat, and to whom armed rebellion laid down its arms, leads the hosts of freedom. We have seen the Waterloo of armed rebellion; we have yet to see the St. Helena of the spirit of treason. And who doubts that we who sang, while the war raged, the battle hymn,

"Mine eyes have seen the coming of the glory of the Lord," shall see on November's day the death of the spirit of treason in the overwhelming defeat and the utter rout of our political foes! Gird on your armor, then, my comrades, to the fight! Close up your ranks! The spirits of your three hundred thousand slain and maimed comrades look approvingly down upon you, and as you now again feel the magic elbow-touch, remember the invocation of our martyr President, spoken on Gettysburg's field: "We have rightly resolved that these honored dead shall not have died in vain; that this nation, under God, shall have a new birth of freedom, and that government of the people, by the people, for the people, shall not perish from the earth."

Short addresses were then made by Gens. Burnside and Kilpatrick and Gov. Curtin, who were recognized and called for by the thousands of assembled veterans, and who would not excuse them without a response. The proceedings were frequently interrupted by ringing cheers when some new delegation arrived, or when some prominent General was recognized. The delegations then separated to procure dinner and to prepare for the great mass meeting this evening, when twenty prominent soldiers will speak.

PROPOSED RECEPTION OF THE BALTIMORE ROUGHS.

It turns out that a Democratic Committee of Reception were on hand at the depot last night to receive the Baltimore roughs, and that Congressman Sam Randall, and the gushing would-be Congressman Florence, were among the Committee. Gov. Swann was among the arrivals, and it is said that the "Plug Uglies" came along as his body guard. About half of them are now in.

THE NEW-YORK, BROOKLYN AND MASSACHUSETTS DELEGATIONS.

The New-York and Brooklyn delegations, under Major-Gen. Graham, 1,500 strong, have just arrived, and created great enthusiasm by their march through the city to their quarters. Their march through Chestnut-street, which is now one grand gallery of variegated red, white and blue, was a briliant and continued ovation. Gen. Graham and staff were mounted, and the parade of such a solid column of uniformed men, carried spectators back to the time when the patriotic volunteers surged to the front. Their tattered battle flags were greeted with the most enthusiastic demonstrations, and the Howitzer Band, with their handsome gun, were showered with wild demonstrations of welcome. Gens. Sickles and Pleasonton accompanied the delegations. The gallant men from Massachusetts, seven hundred strong, under the command of Gen. Bartlett, aided by Gen. Chamberlain, arrived during the reception, and at once proceeded to Independence-square. They presented a splendid apperance, and were enthusiastically received. The headquarters of the Grand Marshal of the New-York delegation are at parlor No. 16, Continental.

GEN. SHERIDAN'S DISPATCH.

The Committee of Arrangements have received letters almost innumerable from prominent officers in the Union army, and from the earnest and loyal Governors of the Northern States during the war. Gen. Sheridan's words are brief, but they have the old war-time ring, and show that he is, as ever, true and steadfast. This is his advice to the men with whose aid he won his brilliant victories:

FORT HARKER, Kansas, Sept. 30, 1868.

To Gen. Charles H. T. Collis, Philadelphia.

Say to the Boys in Blue that it is as essential to have a political victory this Fall as it was to have an Appomattox in 1865, and that every man who loves his country should vote for Grant.

PH. H. SHERIDAN, Major-Gen., U. S. A.

Whittinger; District of Columbia, Major Rich. Middleton; Maryland, Col. J. C. Hill.

THE SCENE IN NATIONAL HALL.

The scene to-night at 6 o'clock, at National Hall, where the soldiers are fed, was decidedly novel and entertaining. The tables had been prepared for 7,000 men, and the New-York and Massachusetts men were hungry and tired, and they rushed for the edibles instanter. In two hours over 2,000 men had been provided with an excellent supper, and the ladies set about providing for other hundreds of fresh arrivals still waiting. This successful attempt to feed the men is one of the remarkable features of the occasion. Nearly everything is given, and the supply seems to be ample, although 7,000 men have been fed to-day and 10,000 will depend on this bounty to-morrow.

The number present has fully equaled, if not exceeded, all anticipations. The Quartermaster's Department of the "Boys in Blue" have been called upon to furnish quarters for 14,000 men, and the number who are at hotels, private houses, and taking care of themselves, will swell the total to at least 22,000, while advices are received of several delegations who will be here to-morrow for the purpose of participating in the torch light procession, amounting to 3,000 more. It is, therefore, a perfectly conservative estimate, based chiefly on actual reports of commanders, to say that 25,000 soldiers have assembled here to testify their fealty to the cause for which they fought, and their candidates, Grant and Colfax.

The class of men who have come is also a striking feature—young, vigorous, intelligent men, the highest development of physical vigor and of the most correct and gentlemanly deportment. I have seen but one drunken man to-day, and he was shouting for Blair. The Convention may therefore be considered a grand success.

MORE ARRIVALS.

Prominent arrivals have become so numerous that it is impossible to enumerate them. Among the latest military men are Gens. Torbert and Fisher, of Delaware; King, of Baltimore; Alger, of Michigan, and Hawley, of Connecticut, with whole regiments of field, line and staff officers. The New-York City and Brooklyn delegations are quartered at the City Armory and the City Arsenal. The Union League Club, of New-York, arrived about an hour in advance of the New-York delegation, and are guests of the Philadelphia Club. Very respectable delegations are here from Newburg, Albany and Troy. Pennsylvania has the largest number present, as a matter of course; New-York is next, and has the largest number of men in uniform, and makes the best impression; New-Jersey next, then Massachusetts, then Maryland, Delaware and District of Columbia, while Ohio, Indiana, Rhode Island, Illinois and West Virginia are all represented by strong delegations.

MASS MEETING IN INDEPENDENCE-SQUARE.

At 7 P. M. Independence-square was illuminated by the superb gas arrangements made for the occasion, and soon began to fill up with admiring spectators. The streets shortly resounded with the music of the various clubs and delegations going to the square, where a grand mass meeting was organized. Gen. Burnside took the chair at stand No. 1, and opened the proceedings in the following brief and patriotic speech:

Gen. Burnside, on taking the chair at the main stand, spoke as follows:

SPEECH OF GOV. BURNSIDE.

Comrades and Fellow-Citizens: I consider the honor of presiding over your deliberations as one of the greatest honors that has ever been conferred upon me during my life. Often has the State and Government called upon me to perform duties, and I say in no instance have I felt that the honor was so great as this conferred upon me to-night. During the war it was my purpose and intention to do all I could for the good of the country. In some instances your expectations of what I could do were not realized. I fully appreciate the disappointment you must have felt, but I say to you in candor, that in no instance was there a moment when I did not think that all was for the best interests of the country. [Great applause.] Now, fellow-citizens, with the same candor I propose to meet you here to-night. When the war closed it was my desire to retire entirely from public life—to engage in my business, which had been too long neglected during the years of the war, and I commenced to give my attention to that business, and up to the time of this political campaign was inaugurated I have done so. But now I feel it is my duty to give to this campaign all the attention that is required of me. [Great applause.] I have a great many comrades here in Pennsylvania who served with me during the North Carolina campaign, the Virginia and the Tennessee campaigns. [Applause.] I am glad to say to them to-night, that before high heaven I am doing what I consider is for the best interests of my country. [Applause.] I believe that it is for the best interests of the country that we should elect Grant and Colfax to the offices for which they have been nominated—[tremendous cheering]—and I also believe they will be elected to these offices. [Renewed cheers.] During my services in the army I had occasion to take cognizance of certain civil operations that were going on in the Northwest, and was ordered to the command of the Department of the Ohio, with my headquarters at Cincinnati. When I arrived there I found that treason was ripe in all the Northwestern States. A large portion of the loyal people had gone to the war, and bad men had endeavored to inaugurate a movement for discouraging the soldiers in the field in their efforts to put down rebellion. I discovered as one of the heads of that movement Mr. Vallandigham. [Groans and hisses.] I took occasion to arrest him. [Cries of "Good, good," "You ought to have hung him."] A great many people have called that cruel on my part. [Cries of "No, it was right."] Mr. Seymour thinks I did wrong; but on the same day, or in a week thereafter, I had released some 300 ignorant people that had engaged in this operation, who were deluded by him and the other leaders. I arrested Vallandigham and sent him South because I thought he was the head of it. Now, fellow soldiers and sailors, let us strike this movement, and put it down likewise. [Applause.] We have a few of our comrades that have gone off before us. I think they are honest. I don't believe they are dishonest, [voice—deluded,] but a large majority of the citizen soldiers of this country will strike this movement a blow that it will never recover from. [Great applause.] I am governed now precisely by the same feelings, the same principles that have governed me throughout the war. We have soldiers here that can not only fight but speak. We have one here to-night particularly conspicuous in that respect, and I will now give way for him.

Gen. Kilpatrick being recognized and called for, spoke as follows:

SPEECH OF GEN. KILPATRICK.

Fellow-citizens, Fellow-soldiers, Gentlemen of Pennsylvania and of the United States: I am proud and happy to meet you here to-day. We had thought, fellow-citizens, when three years ago Robert E. Lee and Johnson had turned over their respective swords, the one to the great Sherman down amid the hills of North Carolina, [cheers,] and the other beneath the apple tree of Appomattox Court-house [great applause] to the next President of the United States, [renewed cheering,] that the war had ceased and peace had come. But we were mistaken. All of you remember those proud and happy days when the heroes of Georgia and the Carolinas had joined the Boys in Blue around Grant below the Potomac, and with colors flying and drums beating, all came marching home across the hills and valleys of Virginia, keeping step to the sweet music of the Union. And we thought, when marching down Pennsylvania-avenue, down before the future residence of U. S. Grant, [cheers] when we had received the greeting of 10,000 of our fellow-citizens, and had returned to our homes, that the war had ceased, but we were mistaken. The same foe, with the same leaders North and South, is now arrayed against us, and the question now arises, will you, fellow-soldiers, have Horatio Seymour or Gen. Grant for your next President? [Cries of Grant.] Will you have the Stars taken from off the shoulders of the Great Sherman, and placed upon that traitor, R. E. Lee? [Cries of "No."] Will you have that man-hyena, Forrest, take the place of dashing, gallant little Phil. Sheridan? ["No," "No."] No, my fellow-citizens, we have met here to-day to take into consideration how this great evil may be prevented. We have a duty to perform as great as that for which we fought during the war. We must place men in power and position whom we know will be true to those great principles for which we fought and crushed the rebellion; not only that they must be also true to the interests of the widows and orphans of our comrades who are gone, and whose spirits in heaven look down with approbation upon the acts of their comrades who are assembled here to-day.

At the conclusion of the speech, Gen. Chipman, Secretary of the National Committee, read the following eloquent address to their comrades of the Union, giving cogent reasons why they should vote for Grant, Colfax, and the right:

ADDRESS OF THE NATIONAL COMMITTEE.

Grateful to Almighty God for being permitted to assemble in this sacred spot, we, the representatives of the survivors of the millions of Union soldiers and sailors who fought against treason in the recent war, reverently renew our obligations to a rescued Republic and a purified Constitution.

Gathering here in the great city preëminent among those communities distinguished for their generosity and loyalty in the darkest hours of our national troubles, we do not come as partisans. We meet to prepare to discharge the new duties devolved upon us in a new crisis more perilous than the conflict from which we have just emerged, and to call upon our late comrades-in-arms to coöperate with us against our old adversaries.

Inflamed by the same passions, led by the same leaders, exulting in the same name, these adversaries are now projecting another conspiracy—seeking to recover by violent and dishonorable means what they had lost in their resort to arms.

We assemble in the interests of peace alone. We propose no plans of war. Taught by our own sufferings, and by the sacrifices of our slaughtered brothers, we keenly appreciate the value and the necessity of peace. We know that this great people, through all their interests, long for repose, yet we cannot deny that the present peril of the Republic is even greater than it was in the darkest hours of the rebellion.

In such an emergency no Union soldier or sailor can hesitate. He will remember that Horatio Seymour is as emphatically the leader of the new rebellion as Robert E. Lee was of the old. He will remember that Horatio Seymour was nominated by a Convention entirely controlled by the officers and politicians who plunged the country into civil war. He will remember that the revolutionary part of the Democratic platform was devised and dictated by a rebel General as a condition of the rebel support to the Democratic Party.

He will remember that the Democratic leaders, now full of sympathy for the Southern rebels, never contributed a dollar to the public treasury during the war; never denounced the savage treatment of the Union people of the South or the Union prisoners of the North, and never rejoiced over the triumph of our arms.

He will remember that the blue uniform is a badge of disgrace in the South, and that every Union soldier, from the General sent to execute the laws to private in the ranks, has been, and continues to be, the object of the incessant assault and persecution of the rebel leaders. He will remember that, since the nominations of Seymour and Blair, Union men have been assassinated by hundreds in the Southern States.

But while these memories arouse a righteous resentment, there are others that inspire a noble gratitude. We feel that we are indebted to the Republican Party for standing by us without flinching through all our perils and privations; for voting us reinforcements and bounties, and for conferring pensions upon the widows and orphans of our fallen comrades; for organizing and controlling the great Sanitary and Christian Commissions, and a thousand other noble agencies of patriotic benevolence; for building cemeteries for the illustrious dead; for relieving all branches of industry from taxation; for enforcing by constitutional prohibition the perpetual rejection of the rebel debt; for consecrating by constitutional guarantee the payment of their own national debt, including the pensions and bounties to our soldiers and sailors; but, more than all, for responding to our earnest appeal by nominating our beloved leader, Gen. Ulysses S. Grant, as their candidate for President of the United States.

In view, therefore, of these hostile preparations for a new rebellion, with a profound sense of our obligation to our country and to the Republican Party, we call upon every soldier who wore the Union blue, whether on land or sea, to cast his vote in the coming elections for the Union State tickets, and for Grant and Colfax.

And further, to mark alike the sincerity and the efficiency of our solemn declaration, we invoke our late comrades in arms to set apart the election day as a period of unremitting exertion and unceasing vigilance, and hereby formally announce that on the 13th day of October next, in the States of Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana and Nebraska, there shall be observed among our comrades a general holiday, and we call upon all employers, manufacturers, and business men generally to relieve their workmen on that day, who have served in the Union army, and thus assist in completing this patriotic purpose. Victory on the 13th of October will be Sheridan's victory of Five Forks, marshaling the way to Grant's transcendant triumph on the Appomattox in November.

GEN. HAWLEY'S SPEECH.

At the southwest stand Gen. Farnsworth presided, and speeches were made by Gen. Torbert of Delaware, Gen. Hawley of Connecticut, and others. Gen. Hawley spoke as follows: He considered it unnecessary to make any logical argument as to the necessity of electing Gen. Grant, for he could not believe it possible that the Government would be murdered after the long and tedious struggle through which it had passed. The Southerners express themselves as satisfied with the Democratic candidates who were nominated by rebel Generals and rebel Congressmen. We know but little of the hardships of the freedmen in the South. The Democratic Party in the South will not speak even at the church door or do business with their fellow men who choose to vote for Grant and Colfax. The same party gives notice that if Seymour and Blair were elected the rebel Government in North Carolina will resume sway in the executive, legislative and judicial departments. The meaning of this is the inauguration of revolution forgetful of its consequences. Those people look to the people of Pennsylvania for aid and support. Could there be a doubt of the position of the people of their State? For the national debt the blood of the soldiers is pledged. Full, final payment is the only payment the Republican Party will recognize. Gen. Hawley denounced any effort to tax the bonds, and considered it the opening wedge toward repudiation. Our enemies put on their banner equal taxation and one currency for all. The Republicans want to make the currency as good as gold, and then it will make no difference how the bonds are paid.

At the southeast stand Gen. Gardner presided. Speeches were made by Gen. Carrington, Gen. Halsey, Gen. Wilson, of Indiana, and others.

SPEECH OF GEN. THAYER.

Gen. Kilpatrick was then introduced and made another telling speech, and was followed by Gen. Jno. M. Thayer, of Nebraska, who spoke as follows:

Mr. President, Veterans and Patriots of the United States: I came from the great prairies of the West to join with you in this great demonstration in behalf of a nation saved by your valor over treason, in behalf of civil liberty, in favor of the reign of universal law and universal justice and universal freedom. To-day I have been told that the Copperheads in the east have put down Nebraska in the column that is to vote for Seymour and Blair. Our people can endure almost anything that is said about them, but God save them from Democratic rule. In behalf of the people of the frontiers, who settled that young State, I ask that you will not allow such a terrible calumny to rest upon their heads. When the lurid flame of civil war lighted up the Southern horizon, when the first call to arms was made, our people came from the prairies, the valleys and the mountains to rally around the flag and unite with you in the grand purpose of saving the United States. [Cheers.] That people will be true now. When the sun goes down upon the 13th of October next, the Prairie State, the youngest in the sisterhood of States, will sound back an answer in response to the glorious notes that have come from the mountains of Vermont and the far-off shores of Maine. What means this illumination, this firing of cannon, the waving of banners, the soul-stirring notes of martial music, and the uprising of the mighty heart of the American nation? It proves to me that you, the heroes of the war, are ready now. You have already buckled on the armor again as you did in 1861. My friends, it is the same issue now. We are arrayed against the same enemy again that we fought during the war. When the rebel armies surrendered, and you came home from the field of battle victorious, and laid aside your arms, you had a right to believe you had conquered the rebellion. But the question of the hour is now whether we are victorious or whether we were the conquered. [Applause.]

THE ILLUMINATIONS.

The illumination of Independence-square was a very fine affair. In front of the hall the gas jets lit up the national escutcheon with fine effect. In the square two lines of gas-pipe had been fixed to the trees on each side of the walk leading to Walnut-street, and to these were fastened gas jets, which, when lighted, blazoned with the names of Grant, Sherman, Sheridan, Thomas, Hooker, Meade, Sickles, Farragut, Porter, and others, and with numerous mottoes, such as "Army and Navy," "Freedom and Liberty," "Grant us Peace," "Don't give up the Ship;" while over the Walnut-street entrance, in immense burning letters, shone forth the words "Freedom to All."

SERENADE.

Midnight.—At the conclusion of the mass meeting in the square, several bands and a number of the delegations marched to the Union League Club-house, and at this house a serenade is going on, and speakers are addressing a crowd of several thousand that completely fills Broad-street. The ubiquitious Kilpatrick is on hand, and Gov. Pierrepont, of Virginia, has also spoken. The crowd shows no signs of weariness, and the meeting bids fair to last into the small hours. To-morrow will be the great day of the demonstration.

FRIDAY, Oct. 2—1 A. M.

The night has passed with little or no disturbance. During the early part of the evening a party of rowdies came into the halls of the Continental Hotel and began to cheer for Seymour and Blair, but in an instant they were met with a perfect tornado of cheers for Grant and Colfax, during which the intruders were quietly landed on the sidewalk. An hour or two later, while some of the Texas delegation were standing in front of the Headquarters of the Boys in Blue in Chestnut-street, near Sixth-street, they were assaulted by some Democratic bullies but the Police interfered and stopped the affray with half a dozen arrests. The Democrats evince a very desperate and ugly feeling. They have just been detected in the most villainous naturalization frauds, blank certificates, signed by the Clerk of the Supreme Court, having been found in the possession of some of the leaders. This exposure exasperates them, and they breathe loud curses.

The political feeling on both sides is very active. The Republicans have canvassed the city, and as a result claim that they will carry it by 10,000 majority, a gain of 5,000. The Democrats claim to have made a canvass, giving them a majority of 4,700.

INDIANA.

Grand Mass Meeting at Lafayette—Speeches by Speaker Colfax and Others.

Special Dispatch to the New-York Times.

LAFAYETTE, Ind., Thursday, Oct. 1.

Thirty thousand enthusiastic Republicans held their grand district rally to-day in this city. Henry S. Lane, Horace Maynard and Schuyler Colfax made speeches. Speaker Colfax was received with unbounded enthusiasm, and made a highly important speech, in the course of which he stated that Gen. Grant has declared that the first duties of an Executive was to afford protection to Union men in the South, as well as in the North, against every outrage and wrong. The speaker denounced the Kuklux outrages in scathing terms, and said that an end must be put to them, and that Gen. Grant would do it. He assured his audience that he regarded the election of the Republican ticket as certain as if the votes had already been counted. An immense audience listened to the speeches, and applauded both Maynard and Colfax most tumultuously. Maynard predicted that the colored vote in the South would be cast solidly for Grant. The demonstration exceeded anything ever known in Northern Indiana.

POLITICAL TELEGRAMS.

Great Republican Demonstration in Rochester, N. Y.

ROCHESTER, Thursday, Oct. 1.

One of the largest political demonstrations ever witnessed in Western New-York took place here to-night. It was a torchlight procession in honor of Hon. John A. Griswold and A. B. Cornell, the Republican candidates for Governor and Lieutenant-Governor. There were several thousand torch-bearers, including a cavalcade of five hundred horsemen in line. There was beside a most brilliant display of fireworks along the route of the procession. For half a mile the wide streets were literally packed with people. Messrs. Griswold and Cornell and Judge Wm. Davis, the Republican candidate for Congress from this district, addressed the multitude in brief and animated speeches. They pursued the usual Republican argument, and their remarks elicited the greatest enthusiasm. The affair, altogether, is claimed by the Republicans as one of the most successful in the political line ever witnessed in this section.

Republican Torchlight Procession and Meeting in Troy.

TROY, N. Y., Thursday, Oct. 1.

A Republican torchlight procession and banner-raising took place here to-night. There were about five thousand torches in line, and several bands of music accompanied the procession. Many buildings were illuminated and addresses were made by distinguished speakers. Among the transparencies was a miniature monitor, with the motto, "Griswold's policy." Great enthusiasm was manifested all along the route.

The Recent City Election in Nashville, Tenn., to be Protested.

NASHVILLE, Thursday, Oct. 1.

The City Council, who were elected Saturday, together with Mayor Alden, were sworn into office to-day. Thornburg and the candidates for Council who ran on his ticket entered a protest, and announced their intention to contest the validity of the election. An indignation meeting of citizens was held in public square to-night. They denounced the election as a fraud.

Democratic State Mass Meeting at Selma, Ala.

SELMA, Ala., Thursday, Oct. 1.

The Democratic State mass meeting to-day was largely attended. The audience was estimated at 20,000, of whom 3,000 were negroes. All the counties in Middle Alabama were represented, most of them by clubs. The procession was two miles long. Speeches were made by Gen. Clanton, Gov. Watts, J. W. Taylor, H. A. Herbert, Gov. Winston and C. W. Lee. The speeches were all earnest and loyal. Gov. Watts made an eloquent apostrophe to the national flag, which was more loudly cheered than any other remark. The torchlight procession to-night was a magnificent affair. The streets are filled with people. All the principal houses in the city are illuminated. There were several colored clubs in the procession.

Political Feeling in Alabama.

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Thursday, Oct. 1.

The Legislature has passed the Registration bill. It awaits the signature of the Governor, who will probably return from Washington with the Committee to-morrow. It is thought that the bill has been delayed so long that the Registers will not complete their work in time for the Presidential election. The feeling is quite strong with the Republican members to cast the vote of the State by the State Legislature, and the Speaker of the House took the floor in advocacy of it.

LOCAL POLITICS.

The Union Republican General Committee.

A meeting of the Union Republican General Committee was held at their headquarters, corner of Twenty-second-street and Broadway, last evening.

A communication was received from the organization, of which Hon. Thomas Murphy is Chairman, setting forth the common interests of the two organizations, and the advantage that would result should they choose to unite their efforts in the conduct of the State and Municipal campaign. The communication ended with a proposition that the Twenty-second-street organization recommend the several Nominating Conventions under its direction, to appoint a Conference Committee, to meet a similar committee of the Twenty-third-street organization Conventions.

Mr. Sinclair Toucey offered the following:

Resolved, That this General Committee recommend the different Nominating Conventions about to be held under its direction to receive all communications addressed to them, by any or all bodies of men, in favor of the principles and candidates of our party, and to give such communication careful and respectful consideration.

Mr. Toucey supported the resolution with an earnest speech, in which he declared that the Twenty-second-street organization was the original one, and it should not yield its influential position to the Twenty-third-street organization. He was in favor, however, of the two pulling together on the same rope.

Mr. Duganne offered as a substitute the following:

Resolved, That the communication be received and accepted, and the recommendation contained therein adopted.

Mr. Duganne said that it was of the greatest importance that the two organizations should work together in this canvass. He saw no reason why all differences should not be settled, and unity and harmony prevail in the ranks. The people in the interior, who were laboring zealously for the Republican ticket, dreaded the majority rolled up against it in this City. They were looking forward to the unity of the party here, and should Griswold be defeated, they would attribute it, in a great degree, to the want of united action on the part of the New-York City Republicans, did they continue to oppose each other.

Mr. Spencer also spoke in favor of the substitute. He said it was time all differences in the party were brought to an end. The Republicans needed every vote in this City, and he believed that it would be unwise to oppose the appointment of a Conference Committee.

Mr. Thompson, Judge Quackenbush and others also supported the substitute.

Gen. Cochrane said the only difference between themselves and the other gentlemen was this: The body of which he was a member claimed to be, and was, the regular organization. They said to the other organization, "Come with us and march with us to the polls." They said, "No, we will go to the polls as the regular organization," and they asked for a conference on this point. Having obtained their ends in this respect, they would ask for the selection of Assemblymen, Senators and other officers in the State and General Government.

Mr. Richardson, Mr. Kingsley, Sr., and others spoke in favor of the original resolution.

A vote was finally taken on the substitute, which resulted in forty yeas to fifty-five nays. The original resolution, offered by Mr. Sinclair Toucey, was then voted upon and adopted.

After some discussion with reference to the finances of the Committee, the meeting adjourned.

New German Republican Club.

On Wednesday evening the German residents of the Sixteenth Ward, organized a Grant and Colfax Club, with its headquarters at Fingel's, No. 199 Seventh-avenue. The first meeting was numerously attended, and very enthusiastic. Dr. Hoeber delivered an address, and many signed the roll of membership. The officers elected were S. Lasar, President; Dr. G. Frankenstein, Secretary, and Leopold Werner, Treasurer. Another public meeting will held on Saturday evening next, at 8 o'clock.

Eighteenth Assembly District.

The Eighteenth Assembly District Club held a lively meeting last night at their rooms, No. 464 Third-avenue. Proceedings were opened by Mr. E. C. Johnson, the President, after which, Hon. John H. White made a very effective speech, which seemed much appreciated by the crowd in attendance. He touched upon the complaints made by Democratic papers against the financial extravagance of Republican rule and cited the tremendous corruption existing in the government of this City, under Democratic management, as an instance of what might be expected were the Democratic Party to obtain National power.

Mr. White was followed by Messrs. Dany and J. Seaver Page.

The Club has 300 members. Its rooms are open daily and nightly, with an abundance of papers, and are a place of agreeable and constant resort by the young men of the neighborhood.

An Irish Republican Club will be formed there to-night, at which Mr. Hugh Coleman will speak.

Nineteenth Ward.

The officers of the Nineteenth Ward Republican Club are: Hon. Wm. A. Darling, President; Addison Brown, Vice-President; L. V. Many and Albert Bogart, Secretaries. The Club held a regular meeting last evening at its hall, No. 721 Third-avenue. Mr. Darling being absent, Mr. Addison Brown presided, and opened the proceedings with a short address, in which he referred to the fact of the Democratic organization having once been both in profession and in fact the party of the poor man; but that now it represented the aristocratic principle, spurning the laborer, and endeavoring to deprive him of political and civil rights.

Mr. Brown was followed by Mr. O'Shea, who criticised very successfully the Democratic partisanship of prominent Irishmen here, who fled from their native land to obtain liberty, and, on reaching this country, were unwilling that their fellowmen of the colored race should enjoy it.

The Democratic Union General Committee.

This Committee met last night in Masonic Hall, East Thirteenth-street, in strong force, Mr. Smith Ely, Jr., in the chair. This organization represents the so-called Union Democracy, of which the late Gen. Halpine was one of the most active organizers. Much sensitiveness was exhibited over the presence of persons supposed to be in the interest of Tammany Hall, and it gave rise to a good deal of discussion on the eligibility of persons recommended for honors. Judge Waterbury submitted a report from the Committee on Contested Seats, recommending the admission to seats of the ticket from the Fourth Ward, of which Mr. Anthony J. Oliver is at the head; of Messrs. Higgins and McDonald, from the Twenty-first Ward, and also that the delegation from the Twenty-second Ward be entirely reconstituted. The report was adopted after much noisy disputation.

An effort was made to form an executive committee, to consist of one from each Assembly District, and a number of names were recommenced as members of the Committee. A member from the Tenth Ward presented a call for primary elections, which was ordered to be referred to the Executive Committee when organized. The meeting then adjourned to Thursday night next.

Twenty-second Ward, Brooklyn, Republicans.

A rousing meeting of the Republicans of the Twenty-second Ward of Brooklyn was held at Military Hall, corner of Fifth-avenue and Ninth-street, Mr. Ray W. Potter in the chair.

Hon. L. E. Chittenden, in a telling speech, alluded to the seriousness of the campaign, and asserted that the war of the rebellion was not yet finished. Every man who had treason in his heart for the past eight years was now to be found in the Democratic Party. He spoke more particularly on the history of the national loans. When called to Washington, in 1861, to public duty, he found that Cobb had cleaned out the Treasury; the credit of the Government was very low; the days were dark, and none of the financial officers, save one, knew where the sinews of war were to come from—that one man was Mr. Chase, who said that there was money enough to conquer the rebellion, and that the people would not only readily loan enough, but if necessary would give it to the Government. Upon that doctrine the work progressed. He then detailed the methods adopted to procure the loans, and said that he knew whereof he spoke in saying that two-thirds of them were taken by the middle and laboring classes of the people. He then characterized repudiation as injurious to those classes, and as an irradicable stigma upon the public credit. His speech was listened to throughout with breathless attention, and was enthusiastically applauded.

Mr. John Rafferty, of New-York, next spoke, devoting his effort to showing that the Republican Party were the true friends of adopted American citizens, and that the hearts of foreign citizens would at last beat time to the principles of human liberty and true Republican Government.

The Independent Glee Club enlivened the proceedings with several patriotic songs, which were, of course, loudly applauded. The meeting was one of the kind that the Twenty-second Warders know how to get up. With the usual cheers for Grant and Colfax, the meeting adjourned.

Eighteenth Ward, Brooklyn, Republicans.

The Eighteenth Ward of Brooklyn was all excitement last evening. The roads on the outskirts of the city were grandly lighted up with the lamps of the Tanners of several Wards, and several detachments of Boys in Blue. The scene of this brilliant procession perambulating the rural ward was one calculated to convince skeptics and enemies that the Grant and Colfax fires were burning brightly in the Eighteenth Ward of Brooklyn. The elegant banner of the Ward was hung across Broadway at the point where Myrtle-avenue intersects it, the unfurling being signalized by the firing of cannon, the soaring of rockets and the enthusiastic plaudits of a large and intelligent audience of ladies and gentlemen, who had assembled in the commodious circular booth attached to Klein's Hotel.

The meeting was spiritedly presided over by the indefatigable Charles W. Godard, who, in a pleasant little speech, introduced

Hon. Erastus D. Culver, who said he had just returned from Pennsylvania, and he was glad to assure the people that the mountains and the valleys, the villages and the cities, the houses and the workshops of that State were alive with patriotism and enthusiasm for the good cause of Grant and Colfax. He then reviewed the common principles of the Government of the United States, pointing out the reasons why foreigners delighted to come to this country. He then sketched the career of Gen. Grant, contrasting it with the record of Horatio Seymour. His criticism of the treasonable record of Seymour was listened to with the greatest attention. The speaker's plain, common sense unfolding of the demagoguism of Seymour and the Democratic Party generally, was fully appreciated and was received with well-timed applause.

Col. L. B. Prince was the next speaker. He made an eloquent exposition of the Republican Platform, as interpreted by Gen. Grant in that brief but thrilling request, "Let us have peace." His scathing contrast between that and the warlike platform of the Democracy, adopted at the Tammany Convention, was carefully listened to and thoroughly appreciated. The meeting was a good earnest of what the Republicans, and not a few of the Democrats, of the Eighteenth Ward intend to do in November.

An outside meeting was organized, with Mr. A. M. Cole as Chairman, and the Tanners, who were in large force, gave light. Mr. David Maxwell was called upon, and made one of his admirable, enthusiastic speeches, which was listened to attentively and loudly applauded.

The Brooklyn Central Union Club.

The regular weekly meeting of the Brooklyn Central Union Club was held at its headquarters, corner of Fulton and Concord streets, Mr. S. M. Griswold, President, in the chair. Hon. Ethan Allen, of New-York, delivered an able and eloquent speech, which abounded with telling arguments and illustrations, which were applauded to the echo. Mr. B. H. Cutler, a Long Island, farmer, recited an original poem entitled "Grant, Griswold and Victory," the patriotic sentiments of which were grandly responded to by the enthusiastic audience.

New-Jersey Items.

Gen. Sigel addressed the Germans at the Newark Wigwam last evening, and was escorted to the building by the German Legions and Veteran Clubs. Dr. Brunninghausen and Dr. Rolignon also spoke.

The Germans of West Newark have formed a Grant Club, with Capt. Ahrens as President; H. Schlegel, Vice-President; H. Meir, Secretary, and Aug. Main, Treasurer.

The Twelfth Ward Republicans, Newark, have selected Peter Neninger, Arnold Miller, James Henderson, Chas. L. Brown and Fred. Rosnagel as a nominating committee.

A mass meeting of the Republicans of Woodside will be held at Woodside Hall this (Friday) evening, at 7 o'clock, to be addressed by Col. G. Cumming and others. The Belleville, Franklin and Eighth Ward Grant and Colfax Legions have been invited, and have signified their intention to be present.

The following Assembly nominations have been made: First District, Union County—Wm. A. Morrell, Republican; Middlesex, Third—Wm. M. Cox; Gloucester, First—Chas. T. Ma[illegible]ney, Democrat; Second, Gloucester—Leonard F. Harding, Republican; Wm. B. Rosenbaum, Democrat; Burlington, Fourth—Dr. T. T. Price.

Judge E. D. Culver, of Brooklyn, addressed a large Republican meeting at the Orange Wigwam Wednesday evening. The German Grant Club at this place now numbers 1[illegible] members; the German Legion 123, and the Irish Republican Club 79.

Jacob Mulford, Esq., a lawyer of Camden, has openly pronounced in favor of Grant and Colfax.

While the Republican procession was passing through Jersey City on Wednesday, several of the clubs were stoned, and a few persons somewhat seriously injured. In addition to this, a horse belonging to Mr. B. Van Reipen, a prominent Republican, was stabbed, it is feared, dangerously.

Staten Island Republicans.

The Grant and Colfax Club, of New-Brighton, will be addressed this evening by Mr. J. J. Couch and Mr. Charles E. St. Clair, of New-York.

The Parade and Serenade of the McClellan Legion.

The Executive Committee of the McClellan Legion, composed of the Grand Marshal Gen. J. H. Hobart Ward, and his aids, held a meeting last night at Masonic Hall, to make arrangements for the procession and serenade this evening in honor of Gen. McClellan. The following arrangements were agreed upon:

The First Division, Marshal, Col. C. H. Pierson, will comprise all the McClellan Legion organizations of this and adjacent cities, including the Conservative Soldiers' and Sailors' Association, of Brooklyn. The Marshals of each organization will report to Col. Pierson, near the right of the command, at 7½ P. M., and will be assigned by him to position in line. This Division will form on Thirteenth-street, with the right on Fourth-avenue, north side.

The Second Division, Marshal Gen. Nelson Taylor, will comprise all the clubs and societies not enumerated in the above. The Division will form on Twelfth-street, with the right on Fourth-avenue, north side. The Marshal of this division will establish his headquarters near the right of his division. The several clubs and societies will report to the Marshal at 7½ P. M.

The organizations of each division will be assigned to positions according to priority of arrival on the ground. The Grand Marshal and aids will be in attendance at Masonic Hall, Nos. 114 and 116 East Thirteenth-street, from 10 A. M. until the hour of parade, to receive reports and make assignments. All those desirous of participating in the ovation are requested to report at as early an hour as practicable. Carriages will be provided for the maimed or disabled.

The line of march will be down Fourth-avenue to Bond-street; thence to Broadway; thence to Fourth-street, as far as University-place; thence to Waverley-place; thence to Fifth-avenue; up Fifth-avenue to the Fifth-avenue Hotel, when the marching in reviews and serenade will take place. The serenade will be given by Grafulla's Seventh Regiment Band.

The following gentlemen are announced as aids to the Grand Marshal and will be mounted. Adjutant-General, Col. H. S. Chatfield; Aides-de-Camps: Gen. Wm. S. Hillyer, Col. Wm. A. Lynch, Clo. P. C. Ackerman, Major James M. Turner, Major E. Donaldson, Capt. Geo. C. Lloyd, Capt. Geo. W. Carter, Capt. James Casey, Capt. J. B. Robinson, Capt. John W. Crump, Lieut. F. J. Jones, Lieut. C. T. McClenachan, Capt. L. Israels.

The Fire in Buffalo—Loss of Messrs. Matthews & Warren, and Other Parties.

The Buffalo papers give the details of the destructive fire in that city on Monday evening, of which a brief account was given by telegraph. We copy the following particulars of the loss sustained by the publishers of the Commercial Advertiser, and others, from the Express:

There were in the building at the time of the fire one double cylinder Hoe newspaper press, three Adams book presses, five other cylinders (Hoe and Campbell), and two smaller presses, eleven in all, together with several Washington hand presses and Gordon's and Ruggle's jobbers. In addition to this, there was an immense amount of paper stock of all kinds, news print, flat caps, China and India cards, railroad board, &c., &c., inks, varnishes, bronzes, and a large quantity of type. A few thousand dollars' worth of cards, stored in the front building, was covered by the waterproof of the Protection Company, and would doubtless have escaped unhurt, but the insurance agents, fearing that the premises would be destroyed, ordered its removal, which was accomplished only with serious damage to the fine surface of highly glazed and delicately tinted board. Altogether Messrs. Mathews & Warren estimate that part of their loss which can be stated in figures at $125,000, on which there is an insurance of $68,000. In the confusion which followed, and the necessity of saving such stock as was exposed to the water which flooded every part of the establishment, it was impossible to obtain the names of the companies holding the risks. No insurance, however, can cover what is by far the most serious part of the damage, in the shape of electrotypes and stereotype plates. Many of these it will take years to replace. Among the misfortunes of the affair was the destruction of the files of the Commercial Advertiser from its start—forty years. Only one other copy is in existence, that belonging to the Y. M. Association.

The building was valued at between $15,000 and $20,000, and was insured mainly in home companies for $12,000. The damage to the Washington-street premises will not be great, being mainly that arising from water. Messrs. A. M. Adams & Co., whose premises, adjoining on Washington-street, are used as a tobacco factory, were at one time in imminent danger of having their establishment involved in the conflagration. Fortunately the factory in the rear escaped with a slight wetting down, the loss being entirely covered by insurance. The lithographic establishment of Messrs. Clay, Cosack & Co., was situated mainly in the first building, but they also occupied one room in the rear. Their loss by fire and water will be between $3,000 and $4,000; insured for $1,200. The Platt Fruit Company, No. 261 Washington-street, were injured only slightly in the removal of stock. Their loss is also fully covered by insurance. Naubert's bookbindery, in the third story of the Washington-street building, escaped with slight injury. The offices of the United States Assessor of Internal Revenue in the rear of the first building, and directly facing the fire, were somewhat damaged, but otherwise little damage was done, the records, &c., being speedily removed.

POCKET TIME-KEEPERS.

American and Foreign Watches—The Great Establishment at Waltham, Mass.

When ALEXANDER DUMAS, père, was in Florence, many years ago, he was greatly annoyed by the irregularity of the city clocks. No two of them went alike, and as there were several dozens of them, they would strike the same hour, one after another, in the most bewildering manner. Thus about noon one would hear the spryest clock commence striking twelve, just as the laziest was leaving off at eleven; and so on all day. "Why don't you keep your clocks in order?" he demanded of a Florentine lounger in a café; "how can you know the time o'day?" "Why," responded the Florentine, "what the devil do you want to know the time o' day for?" Now Americans, like DUMAS, do want to know how the day passes, and consequently are immensely interested in the subject of clocks and watches. They have always been famous for the excellence of their common household clocks, of wood or brass mechanism; but their best watches they have, until recently, been compelled to import. This is all changed now, and Americans have no longer any need to send abroad for pocket time-keepers. They can find them at home, of home manufacture, and of the highest excellence and elegance.

Until within a very few years, a Swiss watch was generally supposed to be the most perfect specimen of a pocket time-keeper, and no one dreamed that any material improvement could be made in its delicate and ingenious workmanship. Great stress was laid on the fact that every part was cut by hand. Workmen were trained from boyhood to make a particular rivet, or wheel; and as they never did anything else, each man was supposed to reach absolute perfection in his part of the manufacture, and so to contribute to the making of a perfect watch. Undoubtedly the best and most expensive Swiss watches deserve their high reputation; but this can be said of a very small proportion only of the immense number manufactured in that country and sent by thousands over Europe and to the United States. So far from insuring accuracy, in the lower-priced watches, the Swiss or hand system of manufacture is liable to many kinds of imperfection. Where the different parts of a mechanism so delicate and complicated, are cut laboriously by hand, in different places and without concert, and then sent to the finisher's to be polished, fitted together and set up, it almost necessarily results that these pieces vary in some degree, and can never be so precisely alike as to render it possible to substitute one piece for another. And it must be remembered that in a mechanism so delicate as that of a fine watch, a variation too slight to be appreciated, except with the aid of the most powerful microscope, will make all the difference in the world between a good time-keeper and a bad one. The watches on which the high reputation of the Swiss manufacturers is based, are made by the most careful and painstaking selection of the material thus brought together, and such watches have, until recently, had no superiors as time-keepers. But the ordinary Swiss watch is very apt to be imperfect, and to need constant repair, as every one knows who carries one. A common watch, unless its owner is of free and easy disposition, and careless whether he is told the truth or a lie about the lapse of time, spends half its existence at the repairer's shop, and requires to be regulated at short intervals.

The inherent imperfections of the Swiss system are avoided by the American system of manufacture by machinery. At first sight this looks like an impossibility. Machine work has always been discredited by the side of hand work, especially where delicate workmanship is required. Our ideas of machinery are connected with ponderous tasks—the propelling of ships, the crushing of rock, the hoisting of immense weights, the manufacture of large and comparatively gross objects—and we naturally connect fine work with the delicacy of the trained eye and skilful hand. But an American inventor has succeeded in overcoming the difficulties in the way of machine work, as applied to the manufacture of the minutest parts of the most delicate mechanism in the world.

The idea was suggested by the successful application of machinery to the manufacture of the Springfield musket. He believed it was possible to make machinery by which all the parts of the most delicate watch could be manufactured with absolute perfection. After years of experiment, and many failures and disappointments, the task was successfully accomplished, and now we have American watches, from the lowest to the highest price, as nearly perfect as time-keepers as human skill and ingenuity can make them.

The advantages of the American system are many and important. Every part of the watch is cut by the aid of machinery graduated to microscopic exactness, and working with a delicacy of touch which the fingers of the most skilful workmen strive in vain to emulate. Every piece is thus multiplied thousands of times without the smallest appreciable difference, even under the microscope. Every wheel, pinion, jewel and pivot is numbered and registered, and can be forwarded from the manufactory to any part of the world, with the absolute certainty that it will answer the purpose for which it was designed.

The manufactory of the American Watch Company is situated at Waltham, Mass. It is charmingly located on the banks of the Charles River, the former site at Roxbury having been abandoned on account of the light and dusty nature of the soil in that region, which materially interfered with and injured the delicate machinery. The machinery is impelled by a steam-engine of twelve-horse power, connecting with lines of shafting passing through the establishment, and by this, with the aid of several hundred operatives, men and women, sheet-brass and steel wire are cut, turned, polished and transformed into the most delicate and perfect watch-movements, at the rate of more than ninety thousand per annum.

The visitor at Waltham finds a plain, substantial brick building, two stories in height, and inclosing a quadrangular court. Entering, he will see extending along the closely-placed windows, on each side of the rooms, the rows of neat benches, at which are seated the operatives employed on the various parts of which the watch is made up. He will be impressed, most of all, with the exceeding minuteness of the work, and the almost imperceptible manner in which the admirably adjusted machinery does its part. WILLIS was hardly guilty of exaggeration in fancifully comparing the successions of minute instruments to long ranges of little fairies, each weaving its cobweb miracles under a careful sentinel's superintending eye. This is the feature of the Waltham Manufactory. Here invariable machinery does the "hundred little dexterities which have hitherto been done only by the variable hand of the workman." With the machinery once regulated with microscopic exactness, millions of watches of the same size and pattern are made with invariable uniformity, all equally sure to keep the sun's time—whereas, formerly, each watch had its freaks and humors, and kept any sort of time it chose.

The delicacy and minuteness of many parts of these watches are almost incredible. A small heap of grains, having to the naked eye all the appearance of pepper dust, are seen, when examined with a microscope, to be perfect screws, each to be driven to its place with a screw-driver of microscopic fineness! It takes 300,000 of these minute bits of steel to weigh a pound. So delicate are their proportions, that out of a single pound of steel, costing, perhaps, fifty cents, are manufactured eleven hundred dollars' worth of screws.

The process of drilling and adjusting the jewels—rubies, sapphires or chrysolites—is one of the most delicate operations of the manufactory. They are first drilled with a diamond, and then opened out with diamond dust, on a soft hair-like iron wire, their perforations having certain microscopic differences. In like manner, the pivots of steel that are to run in these jewels, without wearing out in the least, must be exquisitely polished. The jewels and pivots, after being thus finished, are classified by means of a gauge, so delicately graduated as to detect a difference of the ten thousandth part of an inch. The jewels are classified by means of the pivots, the jewels and pivots of the same number fitting each other exactly. The sizes of the several pivots and jewels in each watch are carefully recorded under its number, so that, as already explained, if any one of either should fail in any part of the world, by sending the number of the watch to Waltham, the part desired may be readily and cheaply replaced with unerring certainty.

The manufacture of watches by machinery is a thoroughly American invention, and is no where else practiced on the same scale. There are now several companies organized for this purpose in the United States, all of which send out excellent time-keepers; but the Waltham Company, the pioneer in this department of industry, still leads them all, and the watches it manufactures are of the best and most reliable quality. Its capital is nearly one million of dollars. Last year it turned out about three hundred watches every day, and this year the proportion will be still greater. Thrown upon the market at this rate, and at the low price of the less elaborately finished specimens, they are rapidly taking the place of the unreliable watches furnished by foreign manufacturers. No American, however poor, need be without his accurate time-keeper; and, with one of these in his pocket, he can never plead ignorance of the "time o'day" in excuse for being dilatory in keeping engagements.

THE CHAMBER OF COMMERCE.

Delegates to the Trade Convention at Cincinnati—The Citizens' Association on Commissioner McLean.

A stated meeting of the Chamber of Commerce was held yesterday, Mr. GEORGE OPDYKE occupying the chair.

A communication from the Secretary of the National Board of Trade, notifying the Chamber that the next Convention would be held in Cincinnati, Dec. 2; also informing it that $192 were due as an assessment, was received, and the amount ordered to be paid.

On motion of Mr. CONKLING, the Chair was authorized to appoint delegates to attend the Cincinnati Convention.

A communication from the Mayor of Savannah, dated Sept. 16, 1868, was read. The document referred to the dangerous obstructions in the Savannah River. In going up the river to the city the schooner Margaret was wrecked at a place called the Four-mile Point. There are also wrecks of two large schooners sunk in the ship channel below Fort Pulaski. The Mayor further states that the municipal authorities have expended upward of $100,000 in dredging, &c. HENRY S. WELLS, a contractor, is under bonds of $50,000 to the Treasury Department at Washington to remove the obstructions, but the work remains idle. The Mayor appeals to the Chamber to use its influence in Washington in such a way that WELLS will be compelled to comply with the terms of his agreement with the Treasury Department, or submit to having his bonds foreclosed in the premises. The communication was referred to the Executive Committee.

A communication was received from Mr. ALEXANDER FOREMAN, a member of the Chamber, in relation to the grievances of tobacco manufacturers consequent upon the decisions and rulings of section No. 73 of the new law, by the Commissioner of Internal Revenue. At present there is but one warehouse in this City open for the reception of tobacco, and the manufacturers of that article are obliged to have their stock transported thither. This is attended with a vast deal of inconvenience and expense, and Mr. FOREMAN, in behalf of members of the Tobacco Board of Trade, asked the Chamber to petition Congress in reference to the subject.

The Chairman said that he thought it would be proper to refer the communication to the Executive Committee.

Mr. CONKLING disagreed with the Chairman. This controversy concerning tobacco was of long standing, and he doubted the propriety of the Chamber memoralizing Congress on the matter.

The Chairman thought it would be showing a lack of courtesy on the part of the Chamber if the communication should be returned without some action having been taken upon it.

The document was then referred to the Executive Committee, with instructions to report at the next meeting.

A communication from Street Commissioner GEO. W. MCLEAN, in which he alludes to the statements made, as he states, by NATHANIEL SANDS, of the Citizens' Association, and signed by PETER COOPER, relating to the integrity of the Street Commissioner in the performance of his duties, was also received. In this communication Mr. MCLEAN charges Mr. SANDS with making unjust assertions and gross misstatements, and asks the Chamber to appoint a person to act in company with two others to investigate the whole subject, concerning which the charges against him were made.

After a brief discussion the communication was referred to the Executive Committee.

On motion of Mr. CONKLING, the President of the Chamber was requested to withdraw from the rooms of the Historical Society, where they were left for safe keeping many years ago, the portraits of ALEXANDER HAMILTON and CADWALLADER COLTON. The Chamber was collecting all the historical portraits of which it had ownership, and he thought these two at the Historical Library should be suspended in the room of the Board. The thanks of the Chamber were extended to the Society for the care it had taken of the portraits.

The Chamber then adjourned.

Board of Health.

An adjourned meeting of the Board of Health was held yesterday afternoon, President LINCOLN presiding, and Commissioners SMITH, CRANE, STONE, MANNIERE, BRENNAN and ACTON being present.

The Sanitary Committee reported in favor of permitting the Caloric Rendering Company to erect buildings for carrying on its business at the foot of Forty-sixth-street, East River. The permit was granted.

Dr. STONE, Chairman of the Committee to whom the matter was referred, reported against allowing the claim of Dr. HOWARD for extra services in making investigations as to the cattle disease.

The Sanitary Superintendent reported adversely on the petition of certain butchers to be allowed to slaughter cattle at the slaughter-house corner of Warren and Bond streets, Brooklyn. The report was adopted.

A communication was received from the engineer setting forth that there was no sewer in Delancey-street, near Rivington, and that the sanitary condition of that locality was imperiled in consequence. The matter was referred to the Croton Board, with the request that a sewer be constructed.

Assistant Inspector ARNOLD, of Yonkers, sent in his resignation, in consequence of his intended departure for Europe. It was accepted.

The engineer, to whom had been referred two complaints relative to the unsafe condition of buildings therein specified, recommended that the matter be referred to the Inspector of Buildings for action. It was so referred.

The Committee on Public Urinals reported progress. Complaint having been made to the Board by Dr. POST, Assistant Sanitary Inspector, that the work of fat-boiling was carried on at the rendering establishment of GAMBLE & MCNEIL, No. 647 West Thirty-eighth-street, after the hours specified by the rules of the Board, Mr. GAMBLE appeared before the Board, and explained that the Inspector was mistaken; that no boiling was done after 6 o'clock P. M. Dr. POST was summoned, but he would not state positively that on the occasion mentioned in the complaint there was fire under the boilers. Mr. GAMBLE admitted that the boilers were warm when the inspection was made by Dr. POST, 1 A. M., but that the heat was owing to the fact that the boilers would not cool in at least twenty-four hours after they had been worked, especially as his establishment rendered about 100,000 pounds of fat at a time. After some discussion the matter was referred to the Sanitary Superintendent for investigation.

A similar complaint alleged against the rendering establishment of TOBY & BOOTH, foot of Thirty-ninth-street, East River, was also referred to the Sanitary Superintendent.

Col. EMMONS CLARK, Clerk of the Board, reported that the draughts for the plates showing the origin and progress of the cattle disease, were ready for the engraver, and would be put in hand at an early day.

A communication was read from Dr. HARRIS, of the Bureau of Vital Statistics, asking permission to employ an assistant for one month. Permission was granted.

The Board then adjourned till Tuesday next, at 1 P. M.

New Primary School, No. 12.

The new building for Primary School No. 12, in Roosevelt, between Oak and Cherry streets, was opened yesterday at 1½ o'clock, P. M., with appropriate exercises. Messrs. FRIESDAM, FULLERTON, KENNEDY, DRISCOLL, and SWEENEY, Trustees of the Fourth Ward, were present, as also the Commissioners and Inspectors of the First District, and several gentlemen of the Board of Education. The opening exercises consisted of solo and choral songs by the scholars, under the direction of Mr. GEO. C. REXFORD, dialogues, and an address to the Trustees, by Miss MARY A. DUNN, congratulating them and the school on the completion of the edifice. The programme was carried out in a manner that gave evident satisfaction to all who were in attendance—a large number of the audience being ladies. Addresses suited to the occasion were made by H. E. LARREMORE, Esq., President, and THOS. BOESE, Clerk of the Board of Education; S. S. RANDALL, Esq., City Superintendent, and Messrs. JAS. L. MILLER, WM. JONES, and others.

The new building has long been needed in this neighborhood, as the school accommodations for primary scholars heretofore were confined to the old house in Oak-street, in no wise fitted for the purpose. The present edifice is a handsome one; three stories in height, of brick, with brown-stone facings, and will accommodate about seven hundred children. There are nine large class-rooms, and particular attention has been paid to the proper ventilation and heating of the school throughout. The building was begun in April of the present year. The teachers of the school are: Mrs. CATHARINE LYNCH, Principal; Miss KATE WHITE, Vice-Principal, and Misses MARIA REARDON, MARY LENAHAN, ELLEN LANE, MARY E. REILLY, ANNE M. GOSS, and KATE BROPHY.

The Fire at the Empire Stores, Brooklyn.

There is a most singular difficulty experienced in obtaining information as to the losses by the fire at the Empire Stores which took place on Wednesday evening. Such facts as have been learned are limited, and although Mr. BAXTER, the lessee, claims that the loss on bonded goods does not exceed half a million dollars, he is unable to tell exactly what stock was in the stores, while he objects to give the names of any of the parties who owned the goods in bond. Among the articles stored and destroyed were 300 hogsheads of molasses, 2,000 bags coffee, 800 bags of ginger, 300 bales of wool, 2,500 bales of gunny cloth, 30 hogsheads of sugar, besides a large quantity of hides, tan bark, logwood, and other articles. Owing to the fact of the goods being insured by the parties owning them respectively, it is impossible to furnish the insurances. Had the names of the owners of the property transpired, the values and insurances might easily have been obtained.

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT—BROOKLYN.

Before Judge Benedict.

A DECISION IN BANKRUPTCY.

The following decision was made yesterday in the matter of George J. G. Davidson, a bankrupt. This is a motion for an order directing the assignee in bankruptcy to surrender the possession of certain coal held by him as part of the property of one George J. G. Davidson, a bankrupt. It appears from the papers that the coal in question, when in possession of Davidson, was levied on by the Sheriff, by virtue of an execution against Davidson. Subsequently it was taken from the possession of the Sheriff by the Coroner, by virtue of the proceedings for claim and delivery instituted in the Supreme Court of the State by the parties here moving, who were the original owners of the coal, and who insist that the title to the coal never passed from them to Davidson for the reason that he obtained possession by reason of fraudulent representation. At the time the owner took possession of the property, he received from the plaintiff in replevin an undertaking as required by the statute for the return of the property, if return thereof should be adjudged, and for the payment of such sum as might, for any cause, be recovered against the plaintiffs. And no return of the property having been required by the defendant in that action, as might have been done under the statute, the property was delivered by the Coroner to the plaintiffs in replevin, from whom it was, however, taken by the Marshal of the United States, by virtue of a warrant in bankruptcy, issued out of the Court against Davidson. Subsequently, the Marshal delivered the property to the assignee in bankruptcy, who holds the same as property of the bankrupt, and claims title thereto by virtue of the assignment in bankruptcy. Upon such a state of facts, the plaintiffs in replevin move the Court, upon affidavits, for a summary order, directing the assignee to deliver them the property.

BENEDICT, J.—The facts presented in these papers do not make out a case of conflict between the Marshal and the officers of the State Court as to the possession of the property in question; nor do they require the interference of the Court by its summary order to avoid a conflict of jurisdiction. This property has not been taken by the Marshal from the officers of any Court, but from private persons, who claim to be the owners of it. No interference with the process of the State Court, by any officer of this Court, is shown, and no officer of the State Court makes application to this Court for protection. The remedy of these parties, therefore, is not by an application like the present, but by an action at law against the Marshal or the assignee; or, perhaps, by a bill in equity, where all the rights of all parties could be passed on and determined; or by a petition in accordance with the suggestion made by the Supreme Court, in Buck vs. Colberth, in 3 Wal., p. 347. It might be that the present proceeding could, without injustice, be treated as such petition; but I forbear to do so, in order to give these parties opportunity to vindicate by a formal petition a clear intention to submit the question of their title in this property to the determination of the Court.

The motion is therefore denied, but the assignee will forbear to make any disposal of the property for the space of ten days, unless by consent of the parties here moving, to enable them to take such proceedings to protect their rights as they may be advised.

UNITED STATES COMMISSIONERS' OFFICE.

Before Commissioner Guttman.

THE ROLLINS CASE.

The Rollins case was continued yesterday, a large number of witnesses appearing for the defence. The first called was Collector Wood, of the Third Revenue District, Brooklyn, who testified that he had recommended McHenry in May last for the position of Inspector of Revenue, and that subsequently he was informed by Mr. Harland that the official record of McHenry was discreditable. Witness informed McHenry of this, when the latter lost his temper and threatened vengeance upon Mr. Harland, saying he would become "square" with him. A cross examination ensued, without noticeable result.

The next witness was Mr. George B. Lincoln, Ex-Postmaster of Brooklyn. He said he knew McHenry and believed him to be a disreputable person. On being asked if he would believe McHenry on oath, he replied that he would allow a very "big margin."

The examination of Senator Henry R. Pierson followed. He testified to having had a conversation with McHenry in the early part of the present year, at Willard's Hotel, Washington. McHenry said he had failed to obtain an appointment on account of Mr. Harland, and that he would be "even" with him for it, or some expression of the kind.

James F. Sudduth testified as to the condition of the pane of glass that McHenry had stated that he looked through at the Metropolitan Board rooms. Witness asserted that faces could be well distinguished on looking through it; moreover, it was not in the door, as sworn to by McHenry, but in an adjoining partition. He also stated that an ordinary conversation could not be heard through the partition in the next apartment.

William M. Harding and R. C. Morgan corroborated Mr. Sudduth's statements, and said they were acquainted with the doors and windows of the apartment from which McHenry swore he saw Mr. Loeb hand money in the street to Mr. Rollins, and that McHenry could not by any chance have seen the transaction.

Other witnesses testified to the same effect.

Mr. Charles Loeb was then called. He said he was in Washington last May and saw Mr. Rollins in his office; he never met Mr. Rollins in the street or walked with him, as stated by McHenry, nor did he ever pay Mr. Rollins any money; the utmost that he ever brought to Washington was four hundred dollars; (McHenry had sworn to having seen him in that city with four five hundred dollar bills;) he had never either, as had been asserted, had charge of Ray's distillery.

On being cross-examined, his testimony appeared to still more confirm the evidence for the defence.

The case was then adjourned till noon on Tuesday next, to give time for the production of three more witnesses.

Gen. Van Wyck and Mr. Jenckes, of the Sub-Committee on Retrenchment, met yesterday at the Astor House to investigate the alleged frauds in the Revenue Department, but adjourned their session until this morning, when Representatives Halsey, Benton and Randall will also be present.

Before Commissioner Osborn.

A COLLISION CASE.

The case of John Collins, Jr., against the ship E. C. Scranton came before Commissioner OSBORN yesterday. Testimony was taken to fix damages. In 1855 the E. C. Scranton, while being towed into this port, struck against the steamer John Hart, then plying between this City and Norwalk. Suit was commenced on behalf of the John Hart in 1856, but the case was allowed to slumber until last year, when a decree was entered against the vessel as being in fault.

Messrs. Beebe & Donahue for libelant, and Isaiah T. Williams for claimant.

COURT OF APPEALS.

Before Chief Justice Hunt and a full Bench.

THE BUTLER ESTATE—POWER OF THE SURROGATE TO COMPEL AN INVENTORY OF FOREIGN AGENTS.

In the Matter of returning a further Inventory of the Estate of Andrew J. Butler.—This matter was on the Court of Appeals Calendar by the title of Benjamin F. Butler, Executor, vs. Gideon J. Tucker, Surrogate, &c. It will be remembered that Gen. Butler took out letters testamentary on the estate of his brother, Col. Butler, he having been domiciled in this county before Surrogate Tucker on Nov. 14, 1864. On the 20th of July, 1865, the Surrogate made an order requiring Gen. Butler to file an inventory, and under it Gen. Butler returned to the appraisers the assets of the estate in this State amounting to $76,391 04, but at the same time stated to them that there was other property in the States of Massachusetts, California and Louisiana, belonging to the estate. On the 23d of August the Surrogate ordered a further inventory to be filed of these foreign assets. From this order Gen. Butler, by his attorneys, John K. Hackett and Gabriel Van Colt, appealed to the Supreme Court and the Supreme Court affirmed the order, the matter in its passage through the Supreme Court taking three titles. From the decision of the Supreme Court the executor appealed. Mr. Devlin, counsel for the appellant, argued that the order was appealable. Counsel for respondent waived that point.

Counsel for appellant argued that the assets in other States could not be reduced to possession by the executor under the letters testamentary in this State, and therefore should not appear in the inventory, and that the Revised Statutes of this State, by implication, if not expressly, confine the contents of the inventory to the property within the State, since they require the property to be appraised to be exhibited to the appraiser, and notice of the appraisal to be served five days previously on the legatees next of kin residing in the county where it is situated.

When the respondent's counsel commenced to reply, the Court asked how this case came before them. They desired to be informed how the Surrogate was made a party. Mr. Devlin said it was a mistake, he did not make up the case, and would have it corrected in title. Judge WOODRUFF said this was not enough, the appeal was throughout against the Surrogate. Another Judge inquired how the matter arose. It seemed like making a Supreme Judge a party to an appeal from his order. Mr. Aitken said it had originally been on the application of a creditor. The Court inquired if that creditor was a party here.

Mr. Devlin said it was a matter of considerable importance to know whether another inventory ought to be filed. The Court said it would reserve the consideration of that point and hear the argument.

Counsel for the respondent argued that the statute required a "true and perfect inventory of all the goods, chattels, and credits of such testator or intestate, and where the same shall be in different and distant places, two or more such inventories as may be necessary," (3 R. S., fifth edition, page 168, section 2,) and provided for the filing of inventories on a subsequent discovery of assets; that personal property followed the law of its owner's domicile; that the granting of letters here gave him the right to the property in other States, though not the power of enforcing that right by legal process without ancillary letters, and that as the whole estate must ultimately be accounted for before this Surrogate, and the inventory was in aid of the Surrogate, on such final accounting, the inventory should be of the whole estate. The Court reserved its decision.

John E. Develin for appellant; and Wm. B. Aitken for respondent.

WILL MADE UNDER RESTRAINT—FAMILY TROUBLES.

George L. Marvin vs. Le Grand Marvin, Executor, &c.—The parties to this suit were partners in business, are brothers, and the only heirs of Sarah L. Marvin, who died Dec. 29, 1863, over 81 years of age, leaving an estate valued at about $100,000. In July 1861, she made a will, giving her son George L. her property, one-half for himself and one-half for his brother. At that time there was trouble between the defendant and his wife, which resulted in her leaving him in September. The testatrix was then living in her own house with a Mrs. Acre, who had been divorced, and of whom George L. Marvin seems to have had some suspicions. After Mrs. Le Grand Marvin left her husband, Mrs. Marvin removed to his house, and Mrs. Acre shortly after came there against the protest of the plaintiff, who, in his mother's presence, told Mrs. Acre that if she went to his brother's house he would not feel at liberty to visit his mother there or let his family go there, not even if his mother were sick or if she died. One or two other matters were charged against him as neglect or disrespect of his mother. Eight days before she died his mother executed a will, in the defendant's handwriting, leaving the defendant all of her personal property, except some small legacies, and control of all her real property. The will was admitted to probate, and the plaintiff appealed. A jury trial was ordered, and the jury found that the will was made under restraint. A suit was commenced as to the real estate, and the jury came to the same result. Appeals were taken in both cases by the defendant. The appeal in this case on the ground that the evidence before the jury showed no restraint, but that on the contrary it was the free action of Mrs. Marvin's own mind, under a strong conviction that the plaintiff had offended against the fifth commandment, and must suffer the punishment, and that plaintiff's conduct toward her in his last interview with her hastened her death. The plaintiff answered that the evidence before the jury showed that the testatrix's mind was worked on by pressing on her and distorting to her every thing that could be made to injure him with her; that be was denied access to his mother except in the presence of others; that some of the allegations of the defendant were absolutely false, and that the evidence was such as to warrant the jury in their finding.

The Court reserved its decision.

The defendant in person for appellant. S. S. Rogers for respondent.

CONSTRUCTION OF WILL—A FEE WITH A LIMITATION OVER.

James Bundy et al., executors, &c., vs. Clarissa M. Bundy.—The husband of the defendant, Laartus Bundy, left his property as follows: "I give and devise unto my wife Clarissa M. Bundy, and Ellen R. Bundy, the daughter of James Bundy, all my real and personal estate, property, assets and effects, subject to my debts. I further will and direct, that in case either the said Clarissa M. should die without heirs, or that the said Ellen R. should die without heirs, that the proceeds invested for either so dying, after sale of my said personal property, shall be equally distributed among the heirs-at-law of my mother."

Under this will the Court below held that this will gave to the appellant the right to use so much of the interest and principal of one-half of the estate of Laartus Bundy as should be necessary and proper for her maintenance and support during her natural life, and that the remainder, if any, went, after her death, first to the issue of her body, and in the event of her decease without issue, then to the heirs of his mother.

Mrs. Bundy claims this was erroneous, the first clause giving her so absolutely one-half of the estate that there was nothing for the second to act on.

In support of the decision, it was urged that this was clearly the intent of the testator, and therefore correct.

George Brooks, for plaintiffs, respondents; H. A. Nelson, for defendant, appellant.

WHAT CONSTITUTES THE TRACK OF A RAILROAD—A COW CASE—$90 WORTH OF LITIGATION.

Margaret Tracy, Administratrix, vs. The Troy and Boston Railroad Company.—The defendants are one of the four companies who built what is called the Troy Union Railroad Company, and one of their trains, while running on the latter, killed Dennis Tracy's cow, valued at $90. The plaintiff's intestate recovered judgment in the Justice Court for $90; the defendants appealed to the County Court, where the plaintiff was non-suited. On appeal to the Supreme Court, the General Term reversed the judgment of the County Court, and ordered a new trial, but gave leave to appeal to this Court. The Court suggested that if it should affirm the decision of the General Term, the plaintiff could not enter up a judgment, but must go back and have a new trial, as there was no judgment now in his favor. The counsel, however, argued the case. The facts are admitted, and the only question is as to the effect of the act requiring every railroad corporation to "erect and maintain fences on the sides of their road," and providing that "until such fences and cattle-guards shall be duly made, the corporation and its agents shall be liable for all damages which shall be done by their agents or engines to cattle, horses, or other animals thereon."

The defendants claim that this is to be construed strictly so as to apply only to their own road, or, at most, to one of which they have exclusive control, and that, as the accident occurred on a road which is not theirs, but owned and controlled by another corporation, the statute cannot be extended to them, and that it makes no difference that they are stockholders in the road in fault.

The plaintiff claims that the statute being remedial, is to be interpreted liberally, and that within its intent their road means any road on which they run engines with their own servants, and under their own control."

The Court reserved its decision.

Miles Beach, of counsel for defendant appellant; O. P. Buel, of counsel for plaintiff respondent.

SUPERIOR COURT—SPECIAL TERM—OCT. 1.

Before Judge Jones.

ALLEGED MALPRACTICE—MOTION FOR PERSONAL INSPECTION, &C.

John F. Walsh, Guardian, &c., vs. Lewis A. Sayre.—This action was commenced to recover the sum of $20,000 damages for alleged malpractice. The defendant is a well-known physician and surgeon of this city, and the plaintiff Walsh, claims that in March last the doctor performed an operation upon his, plaintiff's, minor daughter as for an abcess, whereas in fact it should have been as for a fatty tumor. The answer of the defendant denies all the material allegations, and especially the one as to the injury done to the daughter.

The case came before the Court to-day on a motion made by defendant's counsel for an order directing an oral examination of the daughter, and also a personal inspection, by competent surgeons, of the parts alleged to have been operated upon by the defendant. The motion is made under that section of the code which permits testimony to be taken before trial under certain circumstances.

After argument Judge Jones allowed an order to take the testimony, but declined to direct a personal inspection. A motion for the latter should be in the form of a petition to the equity side of the Court.

For the plaintiff, Edwin James; for the defendant, P. J. Gage.

COURT OF SPECIAL SESSIONS.

Before Justices Kelly and Dowling.

Eighteen cases of assault and battery, sixteen of petit larceny, fifteen of cruelty to animals, two of personating officers, one of keeping a disorderly house, and one of defrauding hotel keeper comprised the calendar of yesterday. Many of these cases were burdened with conflicting testimony, which had the effect of unusually protracting the session of the day.

PERPLEXING EVIDENCE.

Joanna Roach, a woman nearing the grave, having left sixty years behind her, and of respectable appearance, was arraigned on two charges of larceny alleged to have been committed at No. 72 University-place, where she was employed as a laundress. The first complainant was a girl of 14 named Mary Gallagher, but her case proving very weak, the charge was dismissed. The other charge was preferred by Delia Major, whose trunk had been opened and thirteen dollars stolen. The chief witness against the prisoner was the girl Mary, who swore positively that going into Delia's room she saw the accused bending over the open trunk. On the other hand, the prisoner adduced testimony, proving an excellent character for many years, and the Court becoming befogged, adjourned the matter, with the hope of obtaining more light in the future.

THE LOWER DEPTHS.

We have heretofore narrated the exploits of a person styling himself HENRY A. ELLIS, who was charged with attempting to defraud a prostitute of the wages of her sin by falsely pretending to be a policeman. Brought to trial yesterday, the accused contented himself with attempting to prove the complaint legally defective, inasmuch as it charged him with "personating an officer" instead of personating a "police officer" as provided by the statute. The Court held this variance not to be fatal, and removed the unwholesome smile from the prisoner's face by awarding him two months in the Penitentiary.

A GREAT DINER.

Rudolph Leon, a person of elegant exterior, wearing glasses, and having the air generally of a medical gentleman in good practice, was arraigned on a charge of defrauding the Metropolitan Hotel. He told a somewhat incoherent story, and it was finally developed that he has a passion for ordering dinner, which he cannot possibly pay for. Delmonico was honored with his order for a banquet for twenty, and other restaurants and hotels were similarly dealt with. The prisoner might have been harshly treated but that the Court casually discovered that he was lately an inmate of the Lunatic Asylum on Blackwell's Island. He was, therefore, remanded for medical examination.

CRUELTY TO ANIMALS.

Leopold Keedler set a dog on an ox, whereby the nose of the animal was badly lacerated. Leopold found that his sport was valued at $25 by the law he had outraged.

Andrew Bannon beat a horse over the head with a shovel, and giving as an excuse only that he was in a hurry and wanted to make a day's work, was fined $20.

John McCarty, it was proved, had beaten a horse cruelly and unnecessarily, and was fined $20.

Wm. Kelly, crossing West-street, a horse attempted to bite him, and seizing a cart-rung he fought it with the animal, giving him some severe blows on the head. He was fined $25.

THURSDAY, Oct. 1—P. M.

The rise in Money to the Brokers has been fairly established in Wall-street at 7 ℘ cent. There was a sharp demand earlier in the day at this rate, but no panic feeling among borrowers, and no further depression from yesterday on the Stock Exchange, except for an hour or two in some of the Public Funds, which soon recovered and finally closed higher than last night by ⅛@⅜ ℘ cent. The Railway Share speculation opened a little weak on Erie and New-York Central and steady on other descriptions, and before 12 o'clock manifested a general firmness in demand, and soon after a very decided buoyancy in both demand and prices. The course of the market under the sudden change in Money noted yesterday and at the close of the day before seemed to create much astonishment on the Street, as well as disappointment to parties who had been selling freely of United States Funds and the New-York and Western Roads and Reading for the Bearish account, on the calculation that tight money would soon bring down the entire list. The Bullish interest in the market took the opposite view of the turn in Money, and operated upon the calculation that, after the first abrupt rise from 4@5, up to 7 ℘ cent., which must necessarily, as it did, create a flurry among borrowers, the supply of Money at the advanced price would soon become easy, and that on an enlarged Short interest in United States and Railroad Stocks, prices are more likely to go up than down after the Street has become accustomed to 7 ℘ cent. So far as the Public Funds are concerned in the change the demand upon the great dealers from outside buyers has increased, and Money loans upon this class of collateral promise to return next week (after the Quarterly Bank Statement,) to 6 ℘ cent., if not to 5 ℘ cent.

The Gold Room continued to feel the effect of the break-down in the inconsiderate and extortionate corner made on Tuesday, and the sales of the day were at 140⅛@139⅞@140@139½@140@140⅛@139⅞@139⅞ ℘ cent. The Cash Gold was easy, and from 5 to 7 ℘ cent. Interest was paid for carrying over balances. As far as we are advised, the recent sales of the Treasury Office here amount to $2,300,000, out of the September receipts from Customs of $13,300,000. The Foreign Exchanges have not yet improved upon the lower price and easy supply of Gold, owing to the demand for Money at 7 ℘ cent., at which rate some of the Foreign Banking-houses would undoubtedly like to increase their loans in this market, if they could adjust their Exchange on London and the Continent, (which is negotiated on the basis of Gold,) at satisfactory rates.

The Railway market at the Stock Exchange was under considerable excitement, and the sales were active throughout the day. A report was industriously circulated yesterday, and found place in some of the morning papers, that the New-York Central had entered upon a war of ruinous competition with the Erie in freights to the West; but it was not generally supposed, much less believed, that Mr. VANDERBILT is the man to do business for nothing, especially while there is enough for all the Roads to do, and his Stock, in place of going down, sold up to 128½@129 ℘ cent. before the day was over. The talk of lighter traffic on the Northwest and other Western Roads, had quite as little effect, though both these influences were attempted in the midst of a sudden turn in the Money market. Erie sold as high as 49 ℘ cent., and Reading (the Coal tonnage of which, for five days of the week, is 95,000 tons) advanced to 94⅛@94⅜ ℘ cent.

The Bonds of Tennessee and North Carolina were steadier than yesterday, and the demand for Tennessees, new, large at 68@67⅞ ℘ cent. The State of North Carolina paid to-day the October coupon due on part of the Bonds of the State, and is now funding 12 ℘ cent. arrearages on the same Bonds, and also 12 ℘ cent. on the Bonds of January and July—the first of January coupon being retained for cash payment.

After the late Boards the following quotations were made, as compared with the last prices of Wednesday night. Gold steady; the Public Funds firm; the Railways active:

The following gentlemen have been admitted to membership at the old Stock Exchange Board of New-York: Mr. C. W. OLLIFFE, with Messrs. HALLGARTEN & Co; Mr. CADWALLADER EVANS, with Messrs. SMITH, RANDOLPH & Co.; Mr. ARTHUR DYETT, with Messrs. DE RONGE, DYETT & Co., and Mr. W. T. MORRIS, with Messrs. ROBINSON, COX & Co.

The day's business at the office of the Assistant Treasurer was as follows: Total receipts, $3,095,808 40; for Customs, $454,000; Gold Notes, $49,000. Total payments, $2,691,563 66; balance, $94,904,234 85.

The Gallatin National Bank has declared a half-yearly Dividend of five ℘ cent.

The Philadelphia Ledger notices the Coal Trade thus:

"The Anthracite Coal trade in this State continues active, and the orders for Coal large. The Reading Railroad for the week ending Thursday last brought down of all kinds of Coal 110,112 tons, making a total for the year so far of 2,557,268 tons, against 2,696,058 tons to same date last year, showing a decrease of 138,790 tons. The tonnage by the Schulykill Canal for the year thus far is 634,176 tons, against 702,508 tons to same time last year, showing a falling off of 68,331 tons. The entire tonnage of all the companies carrying Coal from this State for the past week is 391,594 tons, and for the current year 9,837,353 tons, against 9,037,563 tons to the same time in 1867, showing an increase of 799,790 tons. Advances of freight charges and of miners' wages are also within the range of probability. The steady increase of coal production warrants the estimate of a month ago, that it will this year exceed that of last year by a million of tons, and even then not be in excess of the consumptive demand for it. The Coal operators are sanguine that there can be no falling off in prices to the end of the season. There has been some little increase of freight charges from Richmond, but as there is a fair supply of vessels, no material change is probable. The price of Coal is steady at last week's quotations."

A fair but not active movement is in progress in the Dry Goods line. The main business is in domestic Woolens and in desirable styles of imported fabrics, which are reported generally firm in prices. Domestic Cottons attract less attention at easier and irregular figures. Though moderately fair offerings of goods were made by the few auction-houses which held public sales to-day, the attendance was far from satisfactory, and the bidding was spiritless as a rule. A large number of auction sales are announced for to-morrow, including some attractive catalogues of dress and tailoring goods, hosiery, linens, &c.

BANKING AND FINANCIAL.

☞ PRINCIPAL AND INTEREST IN GOLD.

THE FIRST MORTGAGE FIFTY-YEAR SEVEN PER CENT. SINKING FUND COUPON BONDS of the Rockford, Rock Island and St. Louis Railroad Company, principal and interest payable in GOLD COIN, free of Government tax, are for sale at the office of the Company, No. 12 Wall-st., at 95 per cent. and accrued interest in currency.

At the present price of gold the bonds pay an income of over ten per cent.; and, in the estimation of the Company, they are the cheapest first-class security offered in the market.

Pamphlets giving fuller information may be had at the office.

Government and other securities received in exchange at market rates.

Cut Meats are dull and heavy. Sales equal to 150 packages, at 12½c.@18c. for dry salted and pickled Hams; 11½c.@12½c. for Shoulders ⅌ lb. Bacon continues quite tame at declining prices. Beef Hams have been quite dull at $20@$29, as extremes, for State and Western, ⅌ bbl. The week's business in Butter and Cheese, Messrs. STARIN & FLOYD notice, thus:

The total receipts of Butter for the week ending this day are 15,520 packages, which, so far, is the largest of the season, and is more in accordance with the market requirements at fair prices. The high prices now current have, however, checked both local demand and coastwise trade, and the market is sensitive under fair supplies. A few lots of Canada Butter have been received, but the direct English export demand will shut off effectually any amount of that stock being received in this market during this season. The week's trade opened with considerable activity, and on the basis of 50c. for selections of fresh pails an effort was made to establish 50c. as the rate for fine dairies, which has not only failed but the increased receipts have caused the market to close dull and heavy, with downward tendency. Our quotations are unchanged.

The receipts of Cheese for the week ending this day are 17,514 boxes. We have no change to note in the market, a fair demand having continued throughout the week for local and coastwise trade, about sufficient to absorb the limited supplies. Exporters still hold themselves out of market, although more anxiety to expedite a fall in prices is evinced. The export trade must of necessity, on both sides, be soon resumed, but receivers are too wary to be again trapped by placing stock on this market, to be used at their cost in bearing market prices. Managers of factories generally hold their stock firmly. But some concessions will probably have to be made to cause a general resumption of trade. Our quotations are unchanged.

WOOL—The movements in this line in September Messrs. TELLKAMPF & KITCHING BROS. review thus: "During the past month we have to report a good demand, at steadily advancing rates, for all kinds of Domestic Fleece and Pulled Wools. The market is comparatively bare of the medium classes, which have now reached as high a point as that ruling two years ago. The inquiry for the finer grades has not been so active, but prices are firm at the advance established. There has been an active trade in California and Texas Wools. The stocks are well sold up, and prices have advanced. Fine Foreign Wools have been inquired for, and some sales have been made at the rates ruling in April and May last. We expect to see an active demand for these Wools. We have no stock of the medium class of foreign Wools, and our manufacturers now perceive how the present rate of duty upon Wools works to their disadvantage. Although fine Wools can be imported at the present time at such prices as to compete with fine domestic Wools, our manufacturers are prevented by the workings of the present tariff from obtaining Wools which will enable them to diversify their products, and thus avoid over competition among themselves, and its consequences in the form of an unsteady trade in Wool and its manufactures. Low Carpet Wools are held at firm prices, but do not sell freely, with the exception of those which can be used for low clothing. We have a short supply of all kinds of Wool for carpet filling and blanket purposes. The necessities of our manufacturers are driving them to the use of strictly carpet Wools for clothing purposes. The reports from the European markets do not indicate any material improvement, and the rates for all descriptions of Wool are ruling low. The imports of Wool into New-York for the year 1867 were 38,817 bales, 18,893,567 lbs.; the imports of Wool into New-York from Jan. 1 to Aug. 29, 1868, were 17,682 bales, 8,271,799 lbs.; the imports of Wool into New-York for month up to Sept. 26, 5,629 bales, 2,775,245 lbs."

A freight engine on the Lawrence Railroad, near Youngstown, Ohio, blew up yesterday morning, killing the engineer, the fireman and a brakeman.

It is announced that SARMIENTO, the new President of the Argentine Republic, has proposed negotiations for peace between Brazil and Paraguay.

Somebody discharged a pistol into the window of the skating rink at Quincy, Ill., on Monday evening, while a political meeting was being held. Lieut.-Gov. KOERNER was making a Republican speech at the time, and Mr. BARNARD ARNTZEN, a German Democratic speaker, was sitting near by, waiting for his turn to speak in answer, according to the programme. The ball from the pistol passed between the two. The Democrats claim that it was the intention of the assassin to kill Mr. ARNTZEN, while the Republicans assert that the deadly missile was aimed at the Lieutenant-Governor.

A shell wherry was launched at Baltimore, a day or two since, entirely decked over, with the exception of an opening where the single oarsman sits. It is thirty-three feet in length, and twelve inches wide, and weighs but forty pounds.

The late HERCULES DOUSMAN, of Prarie du Chien, left an estate valued at from five to seven millions of dollars to his widow and son. He was probably the wealthiest man in the Northwest.

JOHN PERKINS, white, and BENJAMIN JEFFERSON, colored, are to be hanged at Portsmouth, Va., to-day, for the crime of outraging the person of Miss SARAH E. FORD, in Norfolk County, committed two or three months ago.

Major-Gen. HANCOCK is still troubled with the breaking out anew of the wound he received at the battle of Gettysburg. It will probably be a month before he will sufficiently recover to be able to return to Washington. He is now at Carondelet, Mo.

A serious railroad accident occurred at Athens, Ohio, on Monday, caused by a collision between an express train, which was backing up from the Pilcher tunnel, and two hand-cars, containing eighteen "section hands" and their bosses. There was a dense fog prevailing at the time, so that each party was prevented from discovering the approach of the other until too late to prevent the collision. Five of the workmen were almost instantly killed, and two others somewhat seriously injured.

The founder of St. Mary's Church, Montreal, Rev. Father SCHNEIDER, died yesterday.

The Protestant Episcopal Convention (Diocese of New-York) was in session yesterday morning and evening. Many important reports were presented. Bishop POTTER delivered his annual address, which was replete with sound suggestions. The evening was occupied with a debate in regard to a proposal to ask the Triennial Convention to authorise Federate Councils in the various States.

The Union Republican General Committee met at their rooms, corner of Twenty-second-street and Broadway, last evening, and considered a proposition from the Twenty-third-street organization, favoring the appointment of a committee of conference by the several City Nominating Conventions of each General Committee, in order to unite their efforts in the canvass. After a lengthy debate the proposition was virtually declined.

The College of Physicians and Surgeons was duly opened last evening, after vacation, being the commencement of the Sixty-second Course of Lectures. Prof. BUMSTEAD delivered the annual address.

The Chamber of Commerce held a regular meeting yesterday. Delegates were appointed to attend the National Board of Trade to be held at Cincinnati in December next. Several communications, among which was one from the Mayor of Savannah, concerning the obstructions in the Savannah River, another from a member of the Board, relating to the tobacco tax, and one from Street Commissioner MCLEAN, regarding the charges recently made against him, were referred to the proper Committees.

The Board of Aldermen met yesterday, but adjourned after the transaction of some routine business.

The steamship Missouri, from Havana Sept. 26, arrived at this port yesterday. Her Purser has our thanks for courtesies.

Cotton advanced slightly yesterday, on a fair day's business. Breadstuffs were lower, as a rule, and less active. Provisions and Groceries quiet. Freights brisker.

Abolishing the Reconstruction Laws.

The shipwrecked man who should tear to pieces the raft on which he was floating, because of crooked sticks in it, would be thought to have the worst of all crooks in himself. But such a wiseacre is the very model now proposed for Southern imitation.

In one of the most terrible civil storms ever known, the South barely escaped going plump down forever. Dashed out of all shape, and well nigh out of all life, she emerged gasping and clutching for support at whatever was nearest. By extreme good fortune she got together enough of the driftwood to keep her up awhile—long enough partly to recover her spent energies. But now the first use she is asked to make of those energies is to demolish this serviceable support, because forsooth there is timber in it which don't answer exactly to the constitutional rule and compass.

The reconstruction measures have been most grossly misrepresented by the Democratic Party. But it is needless to discuss their intrinsic merits. The worst perversions are sufficiently met by the single indisputable fact that they have served their purpose, in saving the South from the anarchy which yawned around her. They were a makeshift, dictated by the exigencies of the crisis, not perfect in principle or in shape—but perfect in this; that they perfectly fulfilled the necessities of the time. If they have not yet brought the South to a perfect calm, free from all danger, they have at least saved its strength and borne it to a point from which, with due effort, complete security can soon be regained. These Reconstruction laws are capable of doing for the South precisely what the old imperfect articles of confederation did for our forefathers after the tempest of the Revolutionary War. The articles, though hurriedly and badly put together, and in many respects very unsatisfactory, were firmly adhered to until the time came for the transfer to the Constitution of 1787, that perfect model, which speedily bore the nation on to unexampled tranquillity and prosperity. Just so may the war-tossed South find repose and every other blessing by clinging to the present Reconstruction laws until they can be exchanged for a perfectly-modeled Government, or, in other words, until a full return can be made to the old Federal Constitution, with all its perfect safeguards.

The truth is that all this outcry about abolishing the Reconstruction laws comes from nothing else in the world than a spirit essentially and stubbornly revolutionary. It was first started in the most revolutionary manifesto of the time: FRANK BLAIR's letter. It was first echoed by that most malignant and contumacious of rebels, WADE HAMPTON. The project is all of a piece with the accursed rebellion—simply another length of that total revolution in all the principles of reason, prudence and moral feeling. The insane rage against reconstruction is but a fresh play of the late furor against the original construction. The real grievance of the Reconstruction laws has been that they were too repressive of the traitorous propensities to persecute loyal men, and to trample upon the emancipated race. The clamor that the Reconstruction laws are unconstitutional comes from hatred, not love, of the Constitution; the trouble is that they are too well calculated to give force and effect to the obligations and guarantees of the Constitution, both as first framed and as amended.

The abuse of Congress for passing these laws is simply a vent of malice against the Federal Government, of which Congress is the law-making authority. The cry about "Congressional usurpation" is but a repetition of the old treasonable stuff. Said Hon. A. P. ALDRICH the other day in a letter declining the Democratic nomination for Congress in the Second District of South Carolina: "No people have less excuse for inaction than the people of South Carolina. We have contended against Congressional usurpation from the inception of the Government; for this we passed the Ordinance of Nullification in 1832, and the Ordinance of Secession in 1860." That is just it—the whole sum and substance. The Congressional usurpation is but the same old wicked invention which has always been used to keep treason in countenance. There is no complaint about the Reconstruction laws from the loyal portion of the Southern people. In fact they were all, to a considerable degree, shaped to meet their particular wishes, as well as for the general behoof of the national cause.

The Revenue and the Debt—Fact versus Fiction.

The first quarter of the Fiscal Year 1868-9—the year in which, according to DELMAR's campaign paper, our Public Debt is to be run up by extravagant expenditures and deficient or poverty stricken revenues, $154,000,000—closed on Wednesday last, Sept. 30. We have already some of the most important results in regard to revenue and a close approximation as to how far and for what peculiar or exceptionable objects, the public debt has gone ahead of the total as at the beginning of the year.

1. As to the customs revenue, in gold. There was deposited in the New-York Office of the Treasury of the United States, for the quarter just closed, for this account, the sum of $35,098,888. The proportion of the whole customs, usually deposited at this office, in the last year or two, is from 68½ to 70 per cent. Assuming the highest figure as correct, this season, and adding, on this basis, $15,000,000 as received at the outports, we have fifty millions in gold, or at the rate of two hundred millions per annum, for customs, in the first quarter of the year. The second and fourth quarters are not expected to yield near so well, and the third quarter not quite so much—so that the average for the whole year, as in 1865-66, will probably be about $45,000,000 per quarter, or $180,000,000 for the year. This would leave a surplus in our gold revenues of $36,000,000 after appropriating $124,000,000 to gold interest, $8,000,000 to the reimbursement of the principal of the loans of 1847-8, and $7,000,000 to the purchase of Alaska. The previous gold surplus in the Treasury, on the 30th June last, was about $78,000,000.

2. The Internal taxes of the quarter actually received at the Treasury on the 30th ultimo, amounted to $40,650,890. Adding on account of the sums now in transit, and to be brought into the Treasury, to close up the month of September, from the near and remote States, at least $4,350,000, and we have the total of Forty-five millions, or at the rate of $180,000,000 for the year, from Internal revenues, for the first quarter of the year.

3. The Public Debt of the United States stood on 30th June last, $2,505,000,000; of which $28,000,000 was created by a loan to the Pacific Roads, to be reimbursed, interest and principal, by the corporations now building these roads. This would leave the so-called War Debt of the United States, $2,487,000,000. On the 1st October the whole debt will stand about $2,520,000,000—the official statement may vary this figure, two or three millions, one way or the other—of which $40,000,000 is by way of loan to the Pacific Roads, and $7,000,000 spent for the purchase of Alaska, leaving the War Debt proper $2,473,000,000. But taking both these exceptional items into account, and assuming the $19,000,000 increase which they show, together, since July 1, as expenditures of the Treasury, within the extreme intent and purpose of DELMAR, and grouping the figures of both sides of the great account together, we have this remarkable comparison:

July 1 to Sept. 30.	Result.	Delmar.
Customs	$50,000,000	$37,500,000
Iternal revenue	45,000,000	30,500,000
Together	$95 000,000	$68,000.000
Increase of all debt	$15,000,000	$38,500,000

We may add that both the Gold Interest paid out of and Customs received into the Treasury during the quarter are about $5,000,000 each above the average for the year. And with these figures and explanations we leave the reader to judge of the reliability of Mr. DELMAR, and of the woful depression in the trade of the country and revenues of the Government, which his campaign document was designed, at the request of the three wise men of Gotham, to illustrate.

Temper of the Southern Democracy.

The Central Democratic Committee of Georgia protests that its aims are peaceful. It regrets, or pretends to regret, the violent utterances of certain Southern leaders, and entreats the North not to consider them a fair expression of the Democratic feeling. The party, according to this Committee, has been cruelly maligned; instead of being revolutionary, it is law-abiding; so far is it from being rebellious in spirit, that it is prepared to limit its opposition to the reconstructed Governments within the boundaries of constitutional action. Believe this Committee, and the opponents of reconstruction are a lamb-like and much misrepresented people. We observe similar protestations and equally urgent assurances in other quarters. Two or three journals in Georgia and Alabama, which, until the other day, taught the unadulterated Blair doctrine, have suddenly adopted the mild, persuasive tone. They have been misunderstood. They really are not revolutionists. They respect the law, and are amazed that any but the most delightful construction has been placed upon their impulsive words.

These rather remarkable transformations may perhaps be traced to the remonstrances and suggestions which Northern managers of the party are known to have addressed to Southern allies. The sensitiveness evinced by these appeals is somewhat anomalous. The leaders of a party which nominated BLAIR, the apostle of revolution, on a platform embodying his revolutionary policy, have no right to complain that their Southern friends accept as genuine its programme, and conduct the canvass with that understanding. Still there seems good ground for believing that the outspoken threats which have come from the South seriously interfere with Democratic plans in the North and West. The party, it is discovered, cannot carry the old rebel load. It is collapsing under the pressure which BLAIR and his Southern supporters have put upon it. Hence, as a last resort, the request to which the Georgia Committee and the converted journalists are responding. They are asked to moderate the rancor of their tongues, at any rate until after the election, and the first effects of the suggestion are before us.

But the change occurs under suspicious circumstances, and is withal too late. Conversions to order do not inspire confidence. The JOHN ALLEN business makes us suspicious of professions originating in plans deliberately arranged. They wear a sinister and hypocritical look, not at all calculated to command respect. They appear to be a trick addressed to our credulity, and common sense discards them as gammon. For this reason, if for none else, we attach no importance to the manifesto of the Georgia Committee, or the endearing professions of journals which shout loudly as ever for SEYMOUR and BLAIR.

Besides, the temper of the Southern Democracy must continue to be judged by evidence more conclusive than death-bed repentances. Under the excitement of an anticipated triumph it revealed its nature and purposes, and these remain on record, unaffected by anything that may now be said. With what reason can the Georgia Democracy ask us to credit the declarations of their Committee, in the presence of the fact that the leaders of the party in the State are violent in their denunciation of that new order of things, and malignant in their hostility to supporters of the Republican ticket? COBB and TOMBS and HILL are known Democratic leaders, and the speeches of these men at Atlanta, on the 23d July last, constitute a far better exposition of spirit and policy than jesuitical professions, produced to meet an electioneering want. There would be some show of honesty in the effort if the Committee, in behalf of the party, openly repudiated the leadership of these men, and the speeches they delivered at Atlanta. This, however, has not been done. COBB and TOMBS and HILL remain the prominent exponents of Georgia Democracy, and for their counsel and threats the party is responsible. Whether their sayings were considered politic or not is not the question. It is undeniable that they expressed the prevailing sentiment of the party, and that this sentiment commits them to the practical application of the Blair doctrine should SEYMOUR be elected President. Gen. BLAIR himself does not pretend that he has abandoned his position. In a speech at Pittsburg, on Tuesday night, he avowed his adhesion to the principle affirmed in his Broadhead letter; adding that he "wrote that letter with a full consciousness of its meaning." And so it is with the Southern Democracy. They may disclaim revolutionary designs from now till the election, but they adhere to BLAIR, and to his opinion that a Democratic President would be bound to employ the army to abolish reconstruction, and disperse the new Governments.

Other circumstances tell a tale not less unfavorable. We read the Georgia address in the light of the Camilla outrage. The committee's pretensions are belied by that occurrence. Their affected desire to cultivate moderation and good feeling, and friendly relations between the races, becomes insulting mockery, when contrasted with the suppression of a Republican meeting, and the murder of unarmed freedmen, guilty of no other crime than attachment to the Republican Party. For these events the Democratic Party in the State must be held responsible. They are the legitimate fruit of the threats and appeals uttered by the Democratic leaders at Atlanta, in July, and they exhibit the savage spirit which is at work within the party ranks.

Similar incidents prove the prevalence of the same malignant and reckless temper among the Democracy of other Southern States. In Louisiana and Alabama, as in Georgia, the hostility to law, and to the authority of Congress in the matter of reconstruction, cannot be misunderstood. The most dexterous tricks cannot hide its animus, or blind the country to the inevitable result of its elevation to power. The "proclaimed policy of the party leads to revolution, and this undeniable tendency, coupled with the leadership of Gen. BLAIR, is the secret of the active interest which the contest has aroused among the Southern Democrats. They were frank enough to confess at the outset that their zeal for the ticket nominated at New-York is contingent upon its devotion to the work of overthrowing by Executive action the fabric of reconstruction; and from this confession they may not hope to escape. The flimsy covering which is now brought out, at the call of expediency, will not hide their real temper or their ulterior intentions.

The Leader Missing.

Does not JEFF. DAVIS mean to come back in time to take part in the pending canvass? After his lieutenants and subordinates have set his squadrons in the field, does he intend to leave them to do all the fighting? To be sure they did not make him the candidate; but they put his principles again into the field, and his political character is at stake. He had one hundred and thirty-five of his subordinate rebel officers in the National Convention of his party, and they defined its position and controlled its action. One of the foremost of them, WADE HAMPTON, has proclaimed in South Carolina that he made the platform—that he inserted in it the declaration that the laws of Congress on reconstruction are "unconstitutional, revolutionary and void,"—and that, he said, was all that made the platform or the party of any value to him.

The great body of the party has rallied to the summons. Rebels of all grades, officers and privates,—in all sections, North as well as South,—those who fought and those who swore—those who periled their lives and those who only periled their honor,—all who supported treason and rallied under the rebel flag during the war, are rallying under the Democratic flag now. But they miss their leader! Why does he not come to them? He is free. No cruel shackles fetter his movements. No dungeon walls confine his energies or restrict the scope of his activity. Why does he hold himself aloof? FORREST, who waded in blood at Fort Pillow in his service, is again in the field—his blood-stained plume leads the van of the Democratic hosts who rally again in support of the lost cause. SEMMES, who sank and burned so many peaceful, unarmed merchantmen during the war, and who was rescued from the Kearsarge by the sympathy of an English yacht-man, is doing valiant battle for SEYMOUR and BLAIR. LEE, in more peaceful mood, contents himself with writing letters and pointing out to Gen. ROSECRANS how to make the rebels hopeful and cheerful again, after the long Winter of their discontent. And STEPHENS, relieved from the cares of the Confederate Vice-Presidency, is writing books, which he vainly hopes somebody will read, explaining what the war meant,—why it began and when it ended.

But DAVIS cares for none of these things. He has not a word of cheer for his old Confederates,—not a line of advice to give them in their dire extremity. He is out on bail, and prefers the good cheer of the British who built the Alabama to the companionship of his warriors who surrendered once, and are getting ready to surrender once more. JEFF. never was a man of very warm sympathies. Like the man who did not go to his father's funeral, he never was any "hand for relations." But he ought not to turn his back so squarely on his old friends. They are having a hard fight—quite as hard as they had four years ago; and they miss their leader. Why won't he come home, and speak to the boys,—or, at all events, write them a letter?

The Changes in Europe.

"Why, Europe, how you're altered!" exclaims Romance in the prologue to the pantomime as an effeminate female enters in queenly robes, with a dilapidated papier-maché crown on her head and a gilt pine wood sceptre in her hand. A very pleasant conceit it is; but has not the playwright made a mistake in not assigning the part to a strong, robust woman? Have not the great alterations which have taken place in Europe tended to strengthen her, and been all the better for her in particular and the world in general?

The success of the revolution in Spain continues, though it is to be hoped that it does not complete a series of political and religious changes of the most momentous character, and which will directly affect and influence the civilization of that continent for generations to come. Without going back beyond the last two years to quote the enfranchisement of the Russian serfs, the establishment of a limited monarchy in Italy and other important social and political changes, one may cite the abolition of the old and weak German Confederation, the establishment of the new and powerful German Empire under Prussian control; the important changes in the Austrian Constitution by the adoption of the civil marriage and other bills curtailing the power and authority of the Romish priesthood in all the schools and churches; the absorption of Lombardy and Venice by Italy, and the practical annexation of the States of the Church; (a consummation provided for by the treaty of 1866 to ensue on the death of the present Pope;) the late decrees establishing religious and political liberty in Turkey, and finally the revolution in Spain. In each and all of these revolutions, the impulse has come from oppressed peoples and been directed against representatives of barbaric and oppressive systems of government, or ignorant and superstitious forms of religion. They have not been mere lawless, passionate, frenzied insurrections, local to a district or State, and prompted by hatred of despotic rulers or indignation over unjust laws; they have been strong, earnest, righteous revolutions, waged more in sorrow than anger, but not for that reason less wisely directed or vigorously prosecuted against oppressive systems of government unworthy the civilization of the age. In the destruction of the Germanic Confederation, the centralization of Prussia, the unification of Italy, the signing of the new Austrian code by FRANCIS JOSEPH against his own will and in the face of the Pope's protest, the Sultan's manifesto granting religious liberty to Christians and Jews, and all others in the Musselman Empire, and in the revolution in Spain, we see simply triumphs of our superior modern civilization over the ancient and barbaric political and religious systems of the feudal age.

There is no one act of this sublime drama more encouraging than that now enacting in Spain. Singularly enough, the Spaniards, although of an impetuous temperament and rash to excess, have never before united in a revolution against their rulers, though they have been of the most despotic and despicable character. Frequent insurrections have marked their dissatisfaction with the local laws and rulers of various districts, but the present uprising is their first general revolt against their reigning monarch. It is spontaneous and therefore noble expression of moral indignation against, and natural horror of, the system under which they have so long suffered the most ignominious slavery to their tyrannical monarchs and their degraded priesthood. It is too general to fail of success, too enthusiastic and extensive to fall short of completion, and too earnest, too calmly determined and passionless to be without its true moral effect on the rest of the continent. The characters of the leaders, the spirit thus far displayed by the people, the ability of the one and the unanimity of the other, are assurances that the revolution will be conducted in the best interests of that liberty and civilization whither all nations of the world are happily and visibly tending.

MINOR TOPICS.

HENDRICKS, of Indiana, was a leading Presidential candidate before the Nominating Convention; and his nomination at one time seemed well assured. He now proclaims himself even more revolutionary than BLAIR, and declares that he not only indorses the resolution asserting the nullity of the Reconstruction laws, but if he were President he would refuse to execute them. Now, we desire to know the position of HORATIO SEYMOUR on this important point. We demand that he come out and tell the country whether, in case of his election, he will execute the laws regularly enacted, or defy the Constition and throw the Government into chaos.

What do the Police mean these days? They appear to have been seized with a mania for clubbing citizens and breaking heads. At the session of the Police Commissioners on Wednesday, nearly the whole day was occupied in hearing testimony in complaints preferred by citizens against policemen—the majority of cases being of unprovoked clubbing. We warn the Board of Commissioners that their own existence, and the existence of the Metropolitan Police, depend upon their keeping the present Police system high in the favor of our citizens; and this depends upon a speedy stop being put to these ever-recurring outbreaks of Police violence, by a prompt and severe punishment of offenders.

The revolt has evidently been consummated in Spain, and the leaders are now taking steps for the establishment of a new Government. It is strange to observe the feeble resistance which the Spanish army made to the revolutionary party. One little skirmish sums up the whole of their efforts for their Queen. As for the navy, it went over to the party of revolt as soon as the movement began. These things show how rotten were the foundations of ISABELLA's throne.

The present political contest in England turns very much upon religious or ecclesiastical questions, and it is natural that religious sects should take sides according to their views of Church and State. But in the Presidential election in this country no religious question whatever is involved. Why, then, should we hear of the Roman Catholic vote, or the Jewish vote, as opposed to GRANT? Before our Constitution there is neither Jew nor Gentile, neither Catholic nor Protestant, neither white nor black,—but only American citizens.

The only portion of Queen ISABELLA's dominions which continues faithful to her crown is the Province which is styled in official language the "ever-faithful Island of Cuba." We have not yet heard of the Captain-General, or any of the military commanders, or any of the naval officers, declaring against the Queen. Her Majesty, who has taken refuge in France, might come over to Cuba and set herself up as "Queen of the Antilles." She could live in Royal style on the revenue of ten millions of dollars which it annually furnishes to the Spanish Treasury.

THOMAS RING was run over and killed two or three days ago in Jersey City by a railroad train, at the Prospect-street crossing of the Erie Railroad; and the Coroner's jury censured the railroad company for negligence. NATHAN NICHOLLS was killed at Newark by a locomotive on the Morris and Essex Railroad a day or two ago; and the Coroner's jury censured the railroad company for negligence. MARY MORRIS was run over and killed yesterday at Newark by a railroad train; and we presume that the Coroner's jury will to-day censure the Company for negligence. In the first case the railroad company had no gates at the crossing. In the second case the jury censured the Company for "permitting such heavy trains to come down the steep grade, for not keeping a switch-tender to attend properly to the switch," and recommended that a signal light be placed at the locality of the accident. In the third killing case we do not yet know what particular negligence the railroad company was guilty of. We should think that these three slaughters, within a few days, by railroad companies, in large cities, would lead the city authorities in these and other places to establish very stringent rules for the governance of railroads that run through any part of their corporate limits. Such a succession of slaughters ought to lead them to do something very quickly, moreover, so as to prevent the occurrence of other cases. We also hold up these "accidents" as warnings to the Hudson River Railroad and Harlem Railroad, which run trains through the upper part of this City.

It has heretofore been the rule of the Brooklyn Supervisors, who have the appointment of the Inspectors and Canvassers of Election for the city, to give one-half of them to Republicans and the other half to Democrats. But this year the Democrats have a two-thirds majority of the Board, and have fixed the matter to their own convenience and interest. There is not a single Republican Canvasser of Election appointed in the whole city; but in every district two Democrats have been appointed. Hardly any Republican Inspectors and Registers have been appointed; but in nearly all the districts there are four Democratic Inspectors and Registers. The Democrats ought to have a rousing majority in Brooklyn.

PERRY FULLER, whom the President lately appointed Collector at New-Orleans, delivered a speech there the other day—or rather had it delivered for him by another man who read it from the manuscript—in which he said: "Not alone to aid your commercial relations will I endeavor, but also to discharge the duties of my office so as to promote the welfare of the Democratic Party." FULLER is a very frank officeholder certainly—to confess that he will collect the revenue in such a way as to promote the interests of the Democratic Party! We suppose this either means that he wont collect it at all—which would be in the Democratic interest—or that after collecting it, he will turn it into the Democratic Treasury instead of the National Treasury.

The activity of Englishwomen in the political contest between DISRAELI and GLADSTONE is something remarkable. Not only have fifteen or twenty thousand of them demanded to be registered as voters; but we notice appeals from them in the English papers to vote for this candidate or that; and we notice that ladies of high rank, like Lady FOLEY and Lady AMBERLEY, are among the callers of political meetings, and the figure-heads on the platform. In the Reform Parliament—if there be a Reform Parliament—a tremendous effort will be made for female suffrage.

Gen. BANKS addressed a great meeting of workingmen at Charlestown, Mass., the other night. He argued at great length in favor of the eight-hour principle, and in favor of a coöperative system of labor, instead of the present system of wages. This latter question is now undergoing universal discussion among the working classes. The coöperative system was favored by the late Labor Congress in this City, and a great many arguments presented in its behalf. As yet, however, we hear of very few attempts at its application.

Gen. GRANT, who is head of our regular army, gave some advice to regular army officers in a private note to Gen. SHERMAN, which the latter incorporated in his letter to the Philadelphia Boys in Blue. GRANT said he was "very grateful for the support of army officers; but he did not expect or want their active support;" and, he added, "officers who expect to make the army their home for life have to serve under successive Administrations, and should not make themselves obnoxious to any party likely ever to come into power." This is another striking and noteworthy illustration of GRANT's wisdom and common sense.

The Express, last night, "really could not print, to the exclusion of other matter," the proceedings of the great Philadelphia Convention of Boys in Blue. Yet the same issue of the Express contained a long essay, which filled three columns, on "Trees and the Destruction of Insect Life." The Democratic Express evidently holds to the old opinion that Democrats are all the better Democrats for being kept in ignorance, and not hearing the news.

President SARMIENTO, of the Argentine Republic, which is one of the belligerents in the triple alliance against Paraguay, has proposed negotiations for peace. We knew some time ago that SARMIENTO was opposed to the extreme terms which Brazil has been determined to exact from Paraguay; and we know that the Argentines are impatient of the war and eager for peace. But Brazil, since the late successes of her arms, has shown more of the warlike spirit than ever. She still demands the expulsion of LOPEZ and the free navigation of the Amazon; and is not likely to give up these objects until she is badly beaten.

If HOFFMAN is elected, it will be impossible to keep up our present Police system, unless it has the hearty support of the people of this City. Whether or not it will have this support, depends very much upon the action of the Board of Police Commissioners in enforcing proper discipline, and punishing all offenders against the rights of citizens.

If President JOHNSON does not wish to bankrupt the Treasury, he should at once suspend PERRY FULLER, whom he lately appointed Collector at New-Orleans. FULLER declared publicly the other day that he would discharge the duties of his office—that is, collecting the revenue—in such a way as to promote the interests of the Democratic Party. FULLER is paid for collecting the revenue so as to promote the national interests. The President should remove him at once.

The Democratic Party in England argue that if the Episcopal Church be disestablished, all the people will turn infidels and Papists. The only thing which holds them to PAUL and LUTHER, is the Establishment. Now, why is it that, in this country, where we have no Establishment, the people do not turn either to TOM PAINE or the Pope, but adhere to Christianity and the Reformation? Will Churchmen acknowledge that it is because the Americans are wiser and better than the English? Or, what?

The detailed accounts of the South American earthquake, which we received from Peru and Chili, a fortnight ago, did not seem to confirm the vague reports of immense loss of life. But later accounts show that by far the greatest destruction to human life was in Ecuador; and there is little doubt that the number of lives lost in the three Republics was even greater than the original estimates. The entire loss can hardly have been less than 60,000.

An Imposter.

We are informed that a person calling himself "G. HOWARD," and pretending to be a reporter of the NEW-YORK TIMES, is soliciting charitable aid for the family of another reporter of the TIMES, who, he states, was accidentally killed at Fulton Ferry not long since. This man is an imposter. No such person as "G. HOWARD" is or has been connected with this paper in any capacity, nor has any reporter of the TIMES been killed. No person has been authorized by the proprietors of the TIMES to solicit charity for any object whatever, and any one pretending to have such authority may be treated as an imposter and swindler.

Madrid is quiet. The Provisional Junta has been organized, with MADOZ as President. No measures have yet been taken looking to the future of the country beyond denouncing the plan for a Republic; nor will there be until the arrival at the capital of Gens. PRIM and SERRANO.

Complete Triumph of the Revolutionists—Speculations as to the Successor to Queen Isabella.

LONDON, Thursday, Oct. 1.

The success of the revolutionary movement in Spain, ending as it has in the expulsion of Queen ISABELLA, gives rise to much speculation as to her probable successor on the Spanish throne. It is generally believed that the known dislike of the Emperor NAPOLEON to the Orleans family is fatal to the hopes of the Montpensiers, and that a Carlist will be chosen to rule over Spain is regarded as impossible. The ancient rights of the House of Savoy to the throne of Spain are beginning to be discussed, and the Duke of Aosta, the second son of King VICTOR EMMANUEL, is talked of as an available candidate.

After a brief delay, the Queen and family left Biarritz for the Castle of Pau, which has been assigned to Her Most Catholic Majesty as a residence during her sojourn in France."

The New Police Commissioners of New-Orleans—The Legislature—State Democratic Convention.

NEW-ORLEANS, Thursday, Oct. 1.

The new Board of Police Commissioners under the Metropolitan Police bill, composed of two negroes and three whites, have commenced their duties. One Lieutenant and a number of the oldest members of the force have resigned.

In the House yesterday two more whites from the Parish of Baton Rouge were unseated and replaced by two negroes. The majority report of the Election Committee in this case states that the white men whose seats are contested were elected by 758 majority, and the charges upon which the seats were contested were disapproved. The report recommended that the whites be confirmed. The minority report, which was signed by two negroes, unseating the whites and seating the blacks, was adopted by a vote of 37 to 17.

The Democratic State Convention convened yesterday, and organized with a full attendance. To-day resolutions were adopted declaring, that while they protest against all test-oath qualifications, except for crimes whereof the parties have been duly convicted, they recognise the necessity of conforming with the existing laws, and that this Convention will entertain the name of no person as a candidate for election who cannot qualify under these laws, and recommend the Congressional Conventions to adopt the same rule.

Five members of the Electoral ticket, who were ineligible, resigned, and some of the vacancies were filled with eligible men.

Naturalization Frauds in Philadelphia—Baltimore Roughs.

PHILADELPHIA, Thursday, Oct. 1.

JOHN DEVINE was arrested by the Police last night for snapping a pistol at a Republican in the street. On his person were found twelve certificates of naturalization, signed by Prothonotary SNOWDEN, with the seal of the Court on them, but a blank left for names. He was committed.

JAMES A. WATSON, who was voucher on nearly one hundred naturalization papers, has been arrested.

Six men were arrested to-day for attempting to get assessed in wards where they did not live, with the intention of duplicating their vote. The excitement in relation to naturalization papers is increasing. From an examination of the records in Court it appears that some thousands of papers have been issued in which the residences of the persons vouching for the applicants were in no instance taken down, so that the record of the Court is useless in any attempt to prosecute a voucher for perjury in cases of fraud.

Fifteen roughs from Baltimore have been arrested who assaulted the "Boys in Blue" on the cars, and are supposed to have come on for colonization as voters.

Dedication of the Rhode Island Hospital—The Statue of Commodore Perry.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Thursday, Oct. 1.

The Rhode Island Hospital was formally dedicated to its beneficent purposes to-day. The exercises included an address by Prof. W. GAMMETT. The structure has been erected in this city at a cost of nearly $500,000, by contributions in twenty of the cities and towns of the State. The edifice is 400 feet long, of appropriate architecture and convenient arrangement, and meets every requirement of sanitary law, and is believed to be without a superior in the world. PORTLAND, Me., Thursday, Oct. 1.

Special Dispatches to the New-York Times.

WASHINGTON, Thursday, Oct. 1.

MR. DELMAR'S FIGURES.

It is still uncertain whether any official reply will be made to Mr. DELMAR'S officious but not official "account of the condition of the United States Treasury, as set forth in the reports of its various officers;" but a perusal of the document itself, and a few inquiries among the "officers" themselves, are quite sufficient to expose the real position of the author and the nature of the performance. As regards the Director of the Bureau of Statistics, it appears that all the statistics with which he has really anything to do are those of commerce and navigation. In every other department he has as much opportunity to get at the facts as an outsider, and no more. In making up his "account" he had recourse to published documents, and to such information as he could pick up, his unauthorized requests for official figures, as yet unpublished, being denied. Where these sources failed he fell back on estimates. One or two samples of the manner in which he manipulated the true figures (open to him and to everybody else) may indicate the degree of trust which can be placed in his independent and unverified statements. For instance, the item of "Treasurer's receipts," which he places at some $44,000,000, and says consists principally of receipts "from Government property purchased during the war, and receipts on account of the previous year," though "including some repayments," is in fact composed entirely of repayments, and of nothing else. It is an item which enters into both sides of the account, and so does not alter the balance; but in an exhibit of the actual transactions of the Treasury, its real receipts and expenditures, it must be (and in the official report very properly is) left out altogether. Its introduction by Mr. DELMAR, in his statement for three successive years, serves to exaggerate by nearly $150,000,000 the amount drawn from the people and expended by the Government. Again, he quotes the warning letter of the Secretary to Congress, to give the impression that the reductions in expenditure urged by the Secretary as a necessary sequence to the reduction of taxation, had not been made at all. Yet the Delmar document itself shows that Congress cut down the estimates of the Treasury from over $182,000,000 to less than $115,000,000. But the brilliant statistician assumes that the original estimates represent the sum to be expended, and that the odd $67,000,000 will be "derived from the balances of existing (old) appropriations, or by grants of deficiency appropriations at the next session," and actually bases his estimates for the expenditures of the current fiscal year on the figures which Congress cut down, or, in other words, on the old estimates of Mr. MCCULLOCH. The nature of this trick will appear more distinctly from the consideration of a single item. Take, for instance, the Navy Department. The original estimate for the Navy was over $47,000,000. This was reduced by striking out all items not absolutely necessary, and by diminishing the personnel of the Navy, which now consists or soon will consist of only 10,000 men, to $17,356,350. Three months of the fiscal year have now passed, and the expenditures of the Navy Department have been about $6,000,000. Yet, DELMAR estimates the requirements of that Department for the year at $47,317,183—the old figure! To satisfy this estimate, the Navy must spend in the next three months $17,600,000, or at the rate of $70,000,000 per annum, or $7,000 for every man in it! It is unnecessary to illustrate further. I am justified in saying that the errors in this "statement" amount in the aggregate to between $150,000,000 and $170,000,000. From what source they proceed it is not easy to decide, since DELMAR'S ignorance is as notorious here as his malice.

A FORTHCOMING STATEMENT BY SECRETARY M'CULLOCH.

DELMAR is coming to grief even in the camp of his political friends. He forgot when he disturbed the figures which, with characteristic correctness, he collated for his statement that in so doing he was assailing Secretary MCCULLOCH and all of the Democratic Treasury clique. His forgetfulness will, however, be productive of some good, as the Secretary, in self defence, will be obliged to defend himself against the attacks of the statistician, and, in so doing, will be compelled to expose the terrible blunders, or willful falsification of facts, to which DELMAR resorted. It is expected that this statement will be made public by Secretary MCCULLOCH in a few days, as it is understood to be in course of preparation now. It will show that DELMAR'S figures are incorrect in his statement of the liabilities of the Government, not in any small sum, but in the amount of $200,000,000.

REVENUE INSPECTOR FOR SOUTHERN NEW-YORK.

The statement that Secretary MCCULLOCH has issued a commission to A. N. LEWIS as Revenue Supervisor for the Southern New-York District is an error. SPENCER M. KIRBY, at present Chief Clerk in the office of Assessor CLEVELAND, in the Eighth Revenue District, was first nominated by Commissioner ROLLINS for the place, but his name was subsequently withdrawn, and LEWIS was nominated in his stead. As LEWIS is known to be a Radical, the Secretary objects to his appointment as much as he did to KIRBY'S, and the knowing ones of the Treasury clique are offering wagers that he will be rejected. He was formerly in the revenue service in New-York, and was removed to make place for MCLANE, who, when elected Street Commissioner, gave up the place to Gen. HILLYER. It is not probable that any appointments will be made right away except that of Col. GOODLOE, of Kentucky, who, though a Radical, is urged by prominent persons without party distinction, including Gen. GEO. H. THOMAS.

THE SPANISH INSURRECTION.

Secretary SEWARD, this morning, received an official cable dispatch from our Minister to Spain, Hon. JNO. P. HALE, dated Madrid, to-day, confirming the news of the flight of Queen ISABELLA and the establishment of a Provisional Government in that country. The dispatch read as follows:

> A Provisional Government has been organized by the insurgent chiefs. The Queen left the Spanish territory yesterday.
>
> (Signed,) JOHN P. HALE, Minister, &c.

Diplomatic circles here are greatly excited over the news from Spain, and the same feeling exhibits itself in other quarters.

A PERSONAL ENCOUNTER.

At a prominent lobby resort to-day it developed a personal encounter between a certain Spanish gentleman, who represents one of the Territories as a Delegate in Congress, and an ex-naval officer. The latter denounced Queen ISABELLA as an unchaste woman, and expressed some gratification at her present predicament, when the Delegate knocked him down with his cane. A duel will follow unless the authorities interfere to prevent it.

PENNSYLVANIA.

Great Republican Demonstration in Lancaster—A Bit of a Riot—The County Thoroughly Aroused—The Successor of Thad. Stevens—Frank Blair leaves the State confident of his Election.

From our Special Correspondent.

COOPER'S HOTEL, LANCASTER, PENN., Wednesday, Sept. 30, 1868.

Old Lancaster County, the stronghold of Republicanism in this section of the State, the home and the resting place of THAD. STEVENS, and of his antipodes, the old "Public Functionary," had its first grand rally of the campaign in this city yesterday. There was a tremendous turnout of people from all sections of the county, unequaled, as I am assured by mine host of the Cooper Hotel—whose house is the headquarters of sound politics and good cheer—by any political demonstration that has occurred here since the Clay campaign of 1844. The same spontaneous and all-prevading enthusiasm that characterized that campaign, and also the one of 1864, is now abroad in Lancaster County, and will make itself felt in November more decidedly than in any previous contest. The entire rural population of the surrounding country flocked into town yesterday—great wagon-loads of men, women and children, with bands of music, and bearing banners and mottoes and emblems inscribed with the names of the local, State and National candidates. The line of carriages of various kinds from the country extended a distance of over four miles, and not less than 15,000 people were assembled in the open grounds at the east end of the city where the mass meeting was held. There were three stands for speakers, and among those who addressed the people were Gov. GEARY of this State, Gen. PATTERSON, of New-Hampshire, Gen. KILPATRICK, Gen. CRAWFORD, Gen. FISHER, GALUSHA A. GROW, O. J. DICKEY, and many others. Gen. SICKLES was advertised to be here, but was detained in New-York by sickness, greatly to the disappointment of the people. Speaking continued all the afternoon on the common, and in the evening a meeting was held in Fulton Hall, where R. STOCKETT MATHEWS, Esq., the famous orator, of Baltimore, addressed an overwhelming audience, and made one of the most eloquent, thrilling and effective speeches I ever listened to.

The people of Lancaster seem to have imbibed a great deal of the earnest and uncompromising spirit of their late townsman, THAD. STENENS, and accordingly political feeling here on both sides is characterized by a more positive, pronounced, and even beligerent tone than in any other town of Pennsylvania that I have visited. I was not a little astonished yesterday afternoon, while standing in the open square in the centre of the city, to see a large crowd rush up Queen-street, followed by a still larger crowd of vagabonds and roughs, hurling a shower of stones at the party in advance, and uttering yells and curses that could hardly be equaled by a victorious rebel horde pursuing the boys in blue. On inquiry, I ascertained that a Grant and Colfax club from the country, while separated from the main body of their Republican friends, had been grossly and without provocation, attacked by an organized party of roughs, known here as the "Sourkrout Gorillas," who dwell in the southeastern section of the city, and constitute the rank and file of the Seymour and Blair Democracy of Lancaster. Two Republicans were seriously, and one of them perhaps fatally wounded in the attack, and a little girl in the street was hit in the head with a stone and knocked senseless to the pavement. Not the slightest effort was made to quell the riot, and I am told that the Mayor and Police of the city are in sympathy with the "Gorillas," by whom they were elected, and that they uniformly allow them to have their own way. The Republicans of Lancaster say they do not want any of their assistance, but are abundantly able to take care of themselves, and in future they intend to do it. There will be arms in the next Republican mass meeting in Lancaster, and if the Boys in Blue are attacked there will be a sudden decrease in the "Gorilla" population of this city. At the evening meeting, while Mr. MATHEWS was speaking, a Republican Club entered the hall with a Grant and Colfax transparency that was torn to shreds, the Club having been attacked with stones by the gorillas as they were marching to the hall. The wildest excitement ensued, and it was with great difficulty that the audience could be held back from rushing out en masse and inflicting summary vengeance upon the assassins. It was only the anxiety to listen to the charming eloquence of Mr. MATHEWS that prevented a serious riot. He told them not to get excited; what they had encountered from their Democratic opponents was nothing. There were worse wrecks than their banner to be seen every day in their midst. Every maimed and wounded soldier, every loyal boy in blue who hobbled along their streets with one leg, or one arm, was a far worse wreck than that, and was a still stronger evidence of Democratic cruelty and malice. There was not a Copperhead anywhere in this broad land who would not just as readily tear to shreds and trample under foot the sacred banner of his country's glory, as they had just done the emblem of the Republican Party.

I find the Republicans here rather pleased than otherwise at the rage and desperation that is manifesting itself in the ranks of their opponents. They consider it the highest proof of their weakness and of the inevitable and overwhelming defeat that they know awaits them. They say that the Democratic Party in this section is fast simmering down to the dregs, and in a short time longer it will be able to muster in its ranks none but the offscourings of society. Is this not getting to be the case elsewhere than in Lancaster County?

As to the prospects for the October election in this county, well informed Republicans put down the majority at not less than 6,000. Last year it was 5,324. It is found almost impossible to convince the farming population of the county of the importance of the State election. The State offices to be filled are of no account; the people are sure of their Congressman without an effort, and they cannot realize the necessity of a general turn out in October. On the Presidential issue, however, they are thoroughly aroused—more so, I am assured, than at any time in the last twenty years—and the vote in November will accordingly be very large. No Republican estimates the majority then at less than 7,000, and it will probably be over that figure. LINCOLN'S majority in 1864 was 6,021.

Mr. O. J. DICKEY, the Republican nominee for Congress to fill the place of THAD. STEVENS, is a lawyer of this town, formerly a student in Mr. STEVENS' office, and very popular in the district. He is about 45 years of age, a man of ability, and as radical in his views as his predecessor, though probably less impracticable. His election is, of course, a foregone conclusion.

FRANK BLAIR has left the State, much to the regret of his political opponents, who were in hopes he would remain on the stump till the campaign was over. He took the first night-train after delivering his speech in Pittsburg on Monday evening, and passed through the State yesterday on his way to Washington. He was scarcely recognized anywhere on the route, and whenever, by chance, he was detected or pointed out to his fellow-Democrats, the invariable exclamation was, "Oh, h—ll! is that FRANK BLAIR? How hard he looks." At Altoona, where the train stopped for breakfast, an enthusiastic Democrat pulled him up on the steps of the Logan House and introduced him to the dozen or two people assembled there as the "next Vice-President of the United States." He responded as follows:

"My friends, I have been kindly introduced to you as your next Vice-President, and I can assure you fellow-citizens I shall be your next Vice-President. [A voice: 'to be sure you will.'] My friends, I have been speaking a good deal of late, and having made a long speech in the open air at Pittsburg last night, I am, as you perceive, quite hoarse, and as I have had no sleep during the night, I am not in a condition to address you in any lengthy remarks."

At this point, the bell rang for the train to start, and the next Vice-President of the United States, bidding his friends a hasty adieu, rushed for the smoking-car, accompanied by the deafening cheers of about seven Democratic voices. He was not called on for a speech at any other point during the journey. I had the inexpressible pleasure of an introduction to His Excellency on the train, and found him, like a singed cat, much better and more agreeable than he looks. He has the most implicit faith (which I could not discern was at all affected) in his election in November, and thinks the Democracy are going to carry everything before them. S.

Speeches of Senator Cragin, Gen. Van Wyck and Hon. Fernando Wood.

SCRANTON, Penn., Thursday, Oct. 1.

Senator CRAGIN and Gen. VAN WYCK addressed a large Republican mass meeting at Moscow, yesterday. The General went by the afternoon train to New-York, where he is to meet the Congressional Committee on Retrenchment, of which he is Chairman, and continue the examination of revenue matters.

Hon. FERNANDO WOOD, who, yesterday, spoke at Waverley, Penn., and Senator CRAGIN, both put up at the Wyoming House, in this city, last night, where Senator CRAGIN was serenaded by the Tanners, and spoke at some length, spiritedly defending New-England from an attack made by Mr. WOOD in this city on Tuesday night last, when he is alleged to have said, that "the two greatest curses God had visited on the earth were the fall of Adam and the landing of the Pilgrim Fathers at Plymouth Rock." The Democrats subsequently serenaded Mr. WOOD, who made an elaborate rejoinder to Senator CRAGIN'S remarks.

Both speakers were frequently interrupted, and considerable excitement was created.

THEATRICAL.

"Blow for Blow."

The following letter, directed to Mr. LESTER WALLACK, explains itself. The matter is one of considerable earnestness at the present moment, and we therefore accede to Mr. BYRON'S request to give it due popularity:

GARRICK CLUB, GARRICK-STREET, LONDON, England.

MY DEAR SIR: I accord you the sole right to play my "Blow for Blow" in the States, except California, and also the "Lancashire Lass." I wish you would insert in the newspapers the fact that the pirated version of "Dearer than Life" is incorrect in almost every line. Any similar version of "Blow for Blow," or "Lancashire Lass," printed by Mr. DEWITT, will certainly be the same. Do let the Americans know that our pieces are not the pieces so shamefully printed by the unscrupulous publisher in question.

Yours, very faithfully,
H. J. BYRON.

J. LESTER WALLACK, Esq.

JANAUSCHEK'S performances began yesterday.

THE GALLOWS.

Double Execution in Portsmouth, Va., To-day—Visit to the Condemned.

From the Norfolk (Va.) Journal, Sept. 30.

We paid a visit yesterday morning to the condemned men, PERKINS and JEFFERSON, now confined in the County Jail, and whose execution takes place on Friday next. The offence for which these men are condemned to death is rape, committed upon the person of Mrs SARAH ELIZABETH FORD, at her home in Norfolk County, near Zion Church, on the 9th day of June, 1868. They broke into the residence of Miss FORD and her mother at the dead hour of night, and while PERKINS accomplished his hellish purpose upon the person of his victim the negro JEFFERSON held the agonized mother forced to the floor and prevented her cries for assistance.

They are confined in separate cells, the white man, JOHN PERKINS, above, on the second floor, and the negro, BEN. JEFFERSON, below, on the first floor. We conversed with both. PERKINS persistently denies any participation in the horrible crime for which he is condemned to death, and declares he will die an innocent man, and a victim of mistaken identity. Father PLUNKETT is daily with him as his spiritual adviser, and has administered to him the rite of baptism and the holy sacrament. He professes a hope in Christ, and is constantly reading prayers and the holy scriptures. His eyes looked swollen as if from weeping, and in response to our mentioning there was little hope for him, expressed himself as having "a hope beyond all earthly hope." He said he had nothing he wished said to the public through the newspapers. He wished nothing done for his comfort or relief; if it was God's will he should be put to death he felt resigned. In regard to who he was, PERKINS told us that he was originally from Wakefield, N. H., and that he first came South in 1861 with the second New-Hampshire Volunteers as a private. He had been residing at Indian Ridge, Currituck County, N. C., but came to Norfolk County about six or eight months since and went to farm laboring. When he was arrested he was at work for a Mr. STOHLER, a German trucker. He has no parents living, but has a brother in California and a sister in Massachusetts.

We next visited the cell of BEN. JEFFERSON, the negro, and found him very much disturbed and distressed in view of his fate. He is persistent in his denial of any complicity whatever in the wretched affair, and totally disavows his recent confessions in court, when he gave the whole details of the revolting atrocity, and had ELLIOTT discharged. He says he lied in court in order to clear ELLIOTT, who had threatened his life if he (ELLIOTT) was sent to the Penitentiary, as they anticipated they should be. Father PLUNKETT is visiting JEFFERSON and ministering such consolation as he will receive.

Deceiving the Southerners—"Conversions to Democracy."

The Petersburg (Va.) Express publishes a long list of Northern men whom it asserts to be recent converts to the Democratic cause. How trustworthy the list is may be inferred from the following extracts:

"EX-GOV. CURTIN supports SEYMOUR and BLAIR. He says SEYMOUR saved him and Pennsylvania in 1863, and he can't go back on him now.

It is said that Gov. FENTON, of New-York, has declared his intention to vote for SEYMOUR and BLAIR.

Gen. JOHN C. FREMONT has declared his intention of voting for SEYMOUR and BLAIR."

A Serenade to Perry Fuller, and how he Responded to it.

The "Fuller Guards," a political organization of Algiers, La., serenaded PERRY FULLER, recently appointed Collector of New-Orleans, on Tuesday night, Sept. 22, and informed him that they had elected him an honorary member of their Club, and had given to it his name. The reports of the affair say: This was responded to by Hon. PERRY FULLER nominating Col. FOUTE to express the sentiments on this occasion. Col. FOUTE then addressed the Clubs in his usual impressive and elegant manner, and also read the expressed sentiments of Hon. PERRY FULLER, which were received with great applause:

To the Fuller Guards of Algiers, Louisiana:

GENTLEMEN: I fully appreciate the compliment you pay me by this call. Although a native of the North, and a stranger in your midst, I feel a lively interest in the great questions now at issue before the people. I have come there, gentlemen, to advance the commercial interests of your city to the best of my ability. I shall do all in my power to facilitate the transit of goods into the interior counties. Like care and attention will be given to the exportation of the productions of this country. But not alone to aid your commercial relations will I endeavor, but also to discharge the duties of my office so as to promote the welfare of the Democratic Party. The people of the North know but little of the internal machinery of your State, and although they deeply sympathize with you as a party, do not realize the true state of affairs here, and you are compelled to submit to for the sake of peace and quiet. The President of the United States has done everything for you that it is in his power to do. Look back for the last few months upon the trials and anxieties of his position. Think of all he has had to contend with, and of the heroic courage he has displayed in defence of the Constitution and laws. No man has ever been honored by the American people with the position he holds who has more faithfully guarded his trust, than ANDREW JOHNSON. To him you owe all the political privileges you now enjoy, for he is a true friend to all lovers of constitutional liberty and people's rights. Learning through one of my friends that you honored me by naming your Club for me, I desire to state that Mrs. FULLER will be pleased to present you with a banner within a few days, through our friend Col. FOULKE, as a token of appreciation of the compliment, and the generous kindness received from your people. In conclusion I would urge upon you patience and forbearance. Your right as American citizens you can claim at all times, under the Constitution, and the true course is always marked by firmness and moderation. In that I am willing, most cordially to join you.

Again thanking you, gentlemen, for this beautiful compliment, I bid you good night.

PERRY FULLER, Collector of Port.

SEPT. 22, 1868.

Gen. Reynolds Forbids an Election in Texas.

Gen. REYNOLDS, commanding the Department of Texas, has issued an order closing with the words: "No election for electors for President and Vice-President of the United States will be held in the State of Texas on the 3d day of November next. Any assemblage, proceedings or acts for such purpose are hereby prohibited, and all citizens are admonished to remain at home or attend to their ordinary business that day."

A Washington telegram says that one of a party of Western politicians, who last week had occasion to call on President JOHNSON to seek Government patronage for election purposes, has since let out the fact that the President, instead of receiving them rapturously, rather discouraged them. He spoke dolefully of the prospects of the Democratic Party, saying that he firmly believed SEYMOUR would not carry more than four States in November.

Consumption—The Three Remedies.

Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup, for the cure of Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis, and every form of Consumption. The peculiar action of this medicine ripens the ulcers in the lungs, promotes the discharge of the corrupt matter by expectoration, purifies the blood, and thus cures Consumption when every other remedy fails.

Schenck's Sea-weed Tonic, for the cure of Dyspepsia or Indigestion, and all diseases arising from debility. This Tonic invigorates the digestive organs, supplies the place of the gastric juice when that is deficient, and then enables the patient to digest the most nutritious food. It is a sovereign remedy for all cases of indigestion.

Schenck's Mandrake Pills, one of the most valuable medicines ever discovered, being a vegetable substitute for calomel, and having all the useful properties ascribed to that mineral without producing any of its injurious effects.

To these three medicines Dr. J. H. Schenck, of Philadelphia, owes his unrivaled success in the treatment of pulmonary consumption. The Pulmonic Syrup ripens the morbid matter, discharges it, and purifies the blood. The Mandrake Pills act upon the liver, remove all obstructions therefrom, give the organs a healthy tone, and cure liver complaint, which is one of the most prominent causes of consumption. The Sea-weed Tonic invigorates the powers of the stomach, and by strengthening the digestion, and bringing it to a normal and healthy condition, improves the quality of the blood, by which means the formation of ulcers or tubercles in the lungs become impossible. The combined action of this medicine, as thus explained, will cure every case of consumption, if the remedies are used in time, and the use of them is persevered in sufficiently to bring the case to a favorable termination.

Dr. Schenck is professionally at his principal office, Philadelphia, every Saturday, where all letters for advice must be addressed.

He will also be professionally at No. 32 Bond-st., New-York, on TUESDAY, Oct. 13, and at No. 35 Hanover-st., Boston, on WEDNESDAY, Oct. 14. He gives advice free, but for a thorough examination with his Respirometer, the price is $5. Office hours at each city from 9 A. M. to 3 P. M. The hours for the visit to New-York is unavoidably changed from 12 M. to 3 P. M.

THE
NEW-YORK TRIBUNE
AS AN ADVERTISING MEDIUM.

The total circulation of THE TRIBUNE is now 301,000 copies, and is divided as follows. The list is as nearly exact as possible, in view of the fact that a large proportion of our editions is disposed of through newsdealers, and we are obliged to rely, in part, upon their statements as to where their sales are distributed:

	Number of Copies.		Number of Copies.
Alabama	281	Montana	187
Arizona	42	Nebraska	1,069
Arkansas	222	Nevada	831
California	1,689	New-Hampshire	4,271
Colorado	367	New-Jersey	9,694
Connecticut	10,809	New-Mexico	45
Dakota	69	New-York	120,979
Delaware	546	North Carolina	502
District of Columbia	712	Ohio	18,139
Florida	139	Oregon	278
Georgia	389	Pennsylvania	52,985
Idaho	135	Rhode Island	1,898
Illinois	6,580	South Carolina	486
Indiana	6,513	Tennessee	1,693
Iowa	6,948	Texas	822
Kansas	2,697	Utah	199
Kentucky	1,420	Vermont	6,935
Louisiana	291	Virginia	1,146
Maine	8,112	West Virginia	1,649
Maryland	1,124	Washington Ter.	63
Massachusetts	8,813	Wisconsin	4,093
Michigan	6,686	Canada	983
Minnesota	2,294	Foreign	686
Mississippi	350
Missouri	3,646	Total circulation	301,000

The circulation of THE TRIBUNE is far larger than that of any other newspaper, and is distributed over a larger territory. Advertisements inserted in each of our editions will reach 301,000 actual subscribers, and, as each paper is read by five persons on an average, every advertisement is placed before 1,500,000 readers. By no other mode can business men reach so many first-class customers, for THE TRIBUNE circulates among the most enterprising, intelligent, and wealthy classes. For $25 an advertisement of ten lines is placed before 300,000 heads of families in every State and Territory, as well as in foreign countries. For $730 an entire column of THE TRIBUNE is at the disposal of advertisers, while the cost of sending 300,000 circulars of the smallest dimensions would be over $7,000. This illustrates the cheapness of advertising in THE TRIBUNE.

Merchants, manufacturers, inventors, real estate owners, those wanting farms, implement manufacturers, seedsmen, dealers in plants, dealers in stock, bankers, school-teachers and all others who desire to secure patrons and customers in New-York City, as well as in all parts of the country, will find it to their own manifest and great advantage to advertise in THE TRIBUNE as a portion of their regular legitimate expenses. But comparatively few of our American manufacturers have learned the benefits of advertising their goods and wares, while importers, and those who sell imported goods, reap rich returns from their investments in advertising. Our manufacturers fully understand the principles of protecting American industry, but they must learn the advantages of letting the American people know why American goods should have the preference, and where they can be bought.

We would especially dwell on the fact that the subscribers for the three editions of THE TRIBUNE, Daily, Semi-Weekly and Weekly, comprise individuals in every profession or business; consequently advertisements in each disseminate among all classes.

Persons having real estate for sale or to let, and those desirous of purchasing or renting such property, will find THE TRIBUNE especially valuable as an advertising medium. THE TRIBUNE devotes especial attention to the reports of real estate, both in the City and country, thus adding greatly to the value of its columns for advertisers. The advertisements should be made as brief as will allow of the advantages offered being clear to the reader.

As a notable instance of the value of advertising Bonner's Ledger is probably the best living example, Mr. Bonner having been one of the first to understand the wisdom of systematic expenditure, and having the pluck to put his money where it would bring him returns. As late examples of the profitableness of advertising American manufactures, we refer to the success of the American Watch Company at Waltham, Mass., and the National Watch Company at Elgin, Ill. With proper expenditure in newspapers of large circulation, the same results can be realized in all branches of business. An advertisement, kept before the public, is a perpetual sign and a perpetual invitation to customers, and the more legitimate the business the better will advertising pay.

The Chinese Government having (through Hon. Anson Burlingame, while U. S. Minister) conceded to this Company the privilege of connecting the great seaports of the Empire by submarine cables, we propose commencing operations in China, and laying down a line of 900 miles between the following ports, viz.:

Canton, population 1,000,000; Macao, 60,000; Hong Kong, 250,000; Swatow, 200,000; Amoy, 250,000; Foo-chow, 1,250,000; Wau-chu, 300,000; Ningpo, 400,000; Hang-chean, 1,200,000; Shanghae, 1,000,000; total, 5,910,000.

These ports have a foreign commerce of $900,000,000, and an enormous domestic trade, beside which, we have the immense internal commerce of the Empire, radiating from these points, through its canals and navigable rivers.

The cable being laid, this Company propose erecting land lines, and establishing a speedy and trustworthy means of communication, which must command there, as everywhere else, the communications of the Government, of business, and of social life, especially in China. She has no postal system, and her only means now of communicating information is by couriers on land and by steamers on water.

No enterprise commends itself as in a greater degree remunerative to capitalists and to our whole people. It is of vast national importance commercially, politically and evangelically.

Shares of this Company, to a limited number, may be obtained at $50 each, $10 payable down, $15 on the 1st of November, and $25 payable in monthly installments of $2 50 each, commencing Dec. 1, 1868, on application to

ST. LOUIS AND IRON MOUNTAIN RAILROAD COMPANY'S SEVEN PER CENT. FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS,
FEBRUARY AND AUGUST COUPONS.

The earnings of the completed road to Pilot Knob are now more than the interest on the entire mortgage of $4,000,000. Over $8,000,000 have been spent on the property, and not over $2,000,000 of bonds issued thus far. The constantly increasing traffic of carrying ore, with the prospect of controlling all the travel from St. Louis to the Southern States, insures an enormous revenue. The Directors own 8-10ths of the stock for investment, and are interested to enrich the property as well as to economise its expenses.

THOS. ALLEN, President, St. Louis, Mo.

We, the undersigned, cordially recommend these 7 per cent. mortgage bonds of the St. Louis and Iron Mountain Railroad as good security. The revenue of the road will be large, and the administration of the affairs of the Company is in capable and experienced hands, and is entitled to the greatest confidence of the public.

PROTESTANT EPISCOPAL CHURCH

Second Day of the New-York Diocesan Convention—Appointment of Committees—Address of Bishop Potter.

The Convention of the Protestant Episcopal Diocese of New-York reassembled at St. Paul's Chapel at 9 A. M. yesterday. After the usual religious exercises, Rev. Dr. BENJ. I. HAIGHT took the chair, in the absence of Bishop POTTER. After the reading of the minutes and other routine business, the following gentlemen were elected Trustees of the Aged and Infirm Clergy Fund: CYRUS CURTIS, WM. BETTS and EDWARD F. DE LANCEY. The Special Committee on the salary of the Bishop made a report, of which the substance is as follows: "The deficiency of income of the Episcopal Fund has been supplied during the past year by an apportionment among the parishes of the diocese by your Committee. As the income of the disposable fund is still insufficient, and an additional amount must be raised as heretofore, your Committee would therefore offer the following resolution:

Resolved, That a committee be appointed to make an equitable apportionment among the parishes of this diocese, of a sum which, with the income of the Episcopal Fund, will meet the amount pledged by this Convention, for payment to the Bishop. The report was adopted.

A report was submitted setting forth that St. Stephen's College, Armandale, is in a flourishing condition. A new building has been completed, with accommodations for twenty-six students. About $3,000 more was asked for to pay for it. About sixty students will be in attendance at the beginning of the academic year.

The following committees were elected without opposition:

Standing Committee of the Diocese: Rev. Morgan Dix, D. D., Rev. Wm. E. Eigenbrodt, D. D., Rev. William F. Morgan, D. D., Rev. Isaac H. Tuttle, D. D., Hon. Gulian C. Verplanck, Stephen P. Nash, Esq., Floyd Smith, Esq., Edward Jones, Esq.

Missionary Committee—Rev. Sumuel R. Johnson, D. D., Rev. William F. Morgan, D. D., Rev. Henry E. Montgomery, D. D., Rev. Alfred B. Beach, D. D., Rev. Cornelius E. Swope, D. D., Stephen Cambreling, Esq., George C. Collins, Esq., George Merritt, Esq., James Pott, Esq., and Hamilton Bruce, Esq.

Dr. ISAAC H. TUTTLE, of St. Luke's Church, New-York, replaces Rev. Dr. MCVICKAR on the Standing Committee, and Mr. EDWARD JONES replaces Mr. GEORGE T. STRONG. With these exceptions, the Committee is the same as last year. On the Missionary Committee, Drs. BEACH and SWOPE replace Drs. TUTTLE and MONTGOMERY.

Bishop POTTER now delivered his annual address to the Convention. He said that for thirty years they had been in the habit of meeting annually for the purpose of consulting with regard to the affairs of the diocese. If at times, in the course of all these years there had been differences of opinion, giving rise to sharp controversies, yet this reunion of kindred souls, purifying, heart-enlarging had imperceptibly improved them all. Their differences had been exaggerated by public report, while those unseen influences that were doing them so much good were not recognized; but by degrees these occult motives were having their effect in making them all wiser and better. The Bishop, in speaking of the division of the diocese, expressed his regret that some of the brethren were to meet in this Convention for the last time, while he expressed his approval of the measure. He gave an account of visitations among the churches, the results of which were generally gratifying. The usual number of sermons and addresses had been delivered. The number of confirmations was unusually large—nearly 4,000. He alluded to the death of Bishop HOPKINS, of Vermont, and of Bishop HAWKS, of Missouri, during the past year, and paid a feeling tribute to their memories.

There were now in the diocese 456 clergymen and 336 parishes. In 1854, when he took charge, there were 304 clergymen and 252 parishes. He dwelt upon the gratifying evidences of progress in the Church during the last fourteen years. He deplored the recent agitations in the Church. A reader, not well informed, noting the reports of these evils, would suppose that the Church was all but ruined. It was, however, greatly prospering. The tendency of such troubles in the Church was ordinarily to keep the outside world aloof, but it was not so in this case. People were flocking to the Church. God be praised for His mercy. He admonished the members of the Convention of the importance of avoiding dissensions and devoting themselves lovingly to the work that Christ had given them to do. He dwelt upon the advantages of a quiet, peaceful parish. They should be careful how they judge one side and not another. They must hold the scales even. Some thought there had been too much denunciation, too much clamor, against the advancing of false doctrines. But had there been no indiscretions in speech and action which called forth such denunciations? He feared there had been. He deplored the hasty and extravagant expressions, thrown out almost with the purpose of startling, from some pulpits. But between the extremes of error the Church occupied its appropriate sphere, and reconciled the differences that occasionally arose when devoted men on either side were carried too far. He inculcated charity among the different schools of the Church. The mischief came when either school endeavored to narrow the Church down to their peculiar views. There had, however, been some expressions and perversions of doctrine in the Church which were deserving of censure. Those who arranged their services without regard to the laws of the Church threw great difficulties in the way of truth and strengthened the hands of the enemies of the Church. He drew a picture of the sensation-loving preachers and contrasted them with the faithful, humble followers of the Master. Although he opposed certain eccentric changes in the services, he did not deny that there might, under certain circumstances, be just cause for deviating from the strict formula. They could not exclude all improvements within the limits of the law, and they ought not if they could. There were some things in the service of sixty years ago that no one would wish to recall, but the Church of England was not then seeing her best days. Excessive ritualism had not to any extent taken root in this country. There were certain forms which had always prevailed in the Church of England which were distasteful to some. These were at liberty to attend churches in which such usages did not obtain, but he urged charity between the votaries of either view. Such as they are, those forms may be safely left to the authorities of the diocese in which they are. The Bishop argued at great length in favor of visible forms for the enforcement of invisible truths. He lectured the Clergy and the laity upon their general duties in the Church. He alluded to the importance of the coming General Triennial Convention of the Church, at which for the first time since 1859 members from all parts of the country will be present. He ventured to predict that there would be a spirit of fraternal love at that meeting. In regard to the proposed revision of the creed he believed that the Church would not permit itself to be moved a hair's breadth from the old-established tenets of the Church. He recalled the death of several prominent clergymen during the past year, eulogizing all, and spoke highly of Rev. Dr. MCVICKER in connection with the announcement of his retirement from active duties in the diocese. The Bishop concluded a long address, which was listened to with marked attention, by presenting some recommendations with regard to the action of the Convention concerning the business which is to come before it. The Bishop's address was referred to a committee of five, with directions to report during the present Convention. The address was imperfectly heard by the reporters, to whose accommodation very little attention has been paid by the officers of the Convention.

Rev. Dr. BENJ. I. HAIGHT presented the draft of a memorial to the General Convention asking authority for a federate council of the dioceses of this State and a plan for the council in accordance with a resolution passed last year.

The further consideration of this subject at 7:30 P. M. was ordered.

A committee was appointed to provide for extending aid to the missions in the northern part of the State.

The Committee on Endowment was continued until the arrangements for the formation of the new diocese are completed.

Rev. Dr. HAIGHT presented a series of resolutions complimentary to Dr. MCVICKAR on his retirement from active duties.

A committee on amendments of acts of incorporation of churches was appointed.

The Treasurer's report was presented and adopted. It sets forth that the expenditures during the year were $3,375 38, the receipts $4,325 38, balance, $950 38. The report of the Society for the Promotion of Religion and Learning set forth that sixty-four churches had contributed $1,026 98. The expenditures amounted to $21,190 altogether, including $1,096 for educating candidates for the ministry, $10,000 for the General Theological Seminary, and $8,000 for St. Stephen's College. The uses of the Society were illustrated by citing the case of a Roman Catholic priest who wished to join the Episcopal Church, and had not sufficient means to support himself during his probation. The Society supplied the necessary funds for this purpose.

The following Committees were announced: Northern Missions, Rev. Drs. Haight, Paine and Tuttle, Mr. S. T. Skidmore and Mr. Wells, of Grace Church, Southern Education, Rev. Drs. Doane, Potter, Haight, Hon. J. V. L. Pruyn, Albany, and Wm. Scott, of Calvary Church, New-York.

The report of the Trustees of the Episcopal Fund was read, from which it appears that the disposable fund is $67,500; the total receipts, $29,039 09; expenses, $28,455 37; balance, $583 72; Fund for Accumulation, $35,803 99; increase, $2,705 57.

Rev. Dr. MORGAN presented the report of a committee appointed last year to provide funds for the endowment of the new diocese.

Much discussion ensued, in the course of which, Rev. JOHN A. PADDOCK, of St. Peter's Church, Brooklyn, presented resolutions from a committee of twenty, appointed by the Churches of King's, Queen's and Suffolk Counties, L. I., in which they declared that in the division of the diocese they did not relinquish their claims on a portion of the Episcopal Fund of the New-York Diocese.

Finally, a resolution was adopted on motion of Rev. Dr. HAIGHT, declaring "that this Convention recognizes the duty resting on the older and more wealthy portion of the diocese to aid liberally in the endowment of the Episcopate of the new diocese in Northern New-York, and most earnestly commends this measure to the sympathies and generous contributions of the members of the church."

The Convention then adjourned till 7:30 P. M.

EVENING SESSION.

The Convention met again at 7:30 P. M. The Executive Committee of the City Missions Society reported that during the year the Gospel had been preached to 50,000 people, and that many thousands among the lowly had received clerical and lay visits and aid. The receipts from all sources were $55,000. The Committee asked for $20,000, and for $15,000 additional for building purposes. The report gave an encouraging account of the various charities of the Mission.

Rev. Dr. MORGAN DIX presented a resolution, directing a Committee of Five to inquire what, if any, changes had been made, in the organic law of the City Mission, since its recognition by the Convention. The resolution was adopted, and a committee appointed.

Rev. Dr. HAIGHT called up the order of the day, which was the report on the plan of a Federate Council. The details of the plan were discussed at great length, and the Convention adjourned to 9 A. M. to-day.

The Ellen Hicks Murder—Continuation of the Trial of Doran at White Plains, N. Y.

Yesterday morning, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer, of Westchester County, the trial of Sergt. John Doran, of the Fourteenth Regiment United States Artillery, for complicity in the murder of Ellen Hicks—the particulars of which were given in Wednesday's TIMES—was resumed.

At the hour of adjournment on Wednesday evening there were only six jurors obtained out of a panel of 150. This morning the names of 100 additional talesmen were drawn by the Sheriff from the town-box, and from among those were selected another six jurors, which made the required number complete.

District-Attorney Bates then briefly opened the prosecution of the case, setting forth the leading facts against the prisoner, and promising to show by witnesses that he was guilty of the crime alleged against him. His theory was that shortly after midnight of the 1st of May, 1866, six soldiers, armed with bayoneted muskets—one of these, Fitzgerald's, being loaded, went from Fort Schuyler to a house in the village of Westchester, seeking revenge upon Alexander Elliott, who resided there, and with whom some of the party had had a difficulty an hour or two previously, in a liquor saloon at Throg's Neck. Stationing one of the number upon the road, to cut off escape, the others entered the Court-yard, and battering a rear door with the butts of their guns, forced it from its hinges, and entered the house. Elliott, meanwhile, fled from the building through an upper window, and after wrenching the musket from the hands of the soldier whom he encountered on the road, he made good his escape, bearing the weapon with him. The assailants, foiled in the object of killing Elliott, started to return to the fort, but as they passed through the court-yard they saw two females, in their night dress, standing in the door-way of a neighboring dwelling. These were the Hicks sisters, cousins of Elliott, who had been alarmed by the noise, and had arisen from bed to ascertain the cause of it. Fitzgerald raised his piece, and aiming it deliberately at one of the girls—Ellen—he fired, and she fell dead at her sister's feet. Doran was present at the time; was cognizant of the intent of the real murderer; consented thereto, and fled with his comrades to their quarters after the wanton act had been committed. In support of this theory several witnesses were called by the prosecution. The most important of these was Mr. Elliott, who testified to the occurrences which took place up to the time of his final escape from the window of his house. He swore that when the party of soldiers encountered his mother in the attack upon his dwelling, Doran said, when asked what they wanted, "We came here to shoot your son, the ——," (using an indecent epithet.) In the saloon fracas the prisoner said, "—— you, I came from Philadelphia to take the heart out of you, you Orange ——;" and when asked by the witness what he (Elliott) had done to deserve the enmity of the prisoner, Doran replied that it was because he (Elliott) had helped a man named Robinson to beat a man named Andrew Cummings; it was Doran who broke his arm with a bar of iron, with which he struck him; when he escaped from the house he went to Tremont, and thence to Harlem, where he obtained the assistance of two police officers and returned to the house. The District-Attorney asked what was the condition of Ellen Hicks when he returned home, whereupon Mr. McKeon interposed the objection that under the indictment the death of the deceased could not be proven, the indictment failing to state precisely when the death took place.

The District-Attorney replied, insisting that the language of the indictment that "Ellen Hicks then and there, soon after such shooting, died," was sufficiently precise to meet the requirements of the law.

The Judge, agreeing with the District-Attorney, overruled the objection, allowing the defence the benefit of the exception.

The witness then answered that Ellen was dead when he arrived at home.

The cross-examination of Elliott was lengthy and severe, eliciting some important facts favorable to the prisoner. He admitted that he had been in many fights during his lifetime, and had a great many enemies. He had been convicted of an assault about three years ago, before Judge Robertson, and punished for it. He didn't pride himself on being a pugilist, but could generally take care of himself. Portions of the testimony of witness given before the coroner's jury, as noted on the records, were emphatically contradicted on this examination, the witness declaring that he did not swear to certain things at that time. Witness was an Irishman, but not an Orangeman, and had no enmity to the soldiers.

Mrs. Elliott, the mother of the previous witness, and aunt of the deceased, was the next witness. She detailed the circumstance of the soldiers' arrival at her house on the night in question, their demands for her son, and their efforts to reach him. She heard a shot fired after her son had fled, but did not see who fired it. She recognized Doran, fully, as one of the assailants, who took a leading part in the affair.

When cross-examined, the witness admitted that she had said to a person that she "prayed every night for Fitzgerald's soul, but she wanted his body." In explanation, she said that she "believed in the Bible doctrine of blood for blood," and though she wished the souls of these men to be saved, she desired that the murderers should be hanged for killing her niece.

The conclusion of Mrs. Elliott's testimony was not reached until evening, when an adjournment until this morning, at 8 o'clock, was ordered.

Railroad Accident—Inquest on the Body of Thomas Ring—The Erie Railroad Company Censured.

Coroner WARREN held an inquest Wednesday evening on the body of THOMAS RING, run over and killed by a locomotive on the 25th of September last, at the Prospect-street (Jersey City) crossing of the Erie Railroad. The first witness examined was Albert H. Kirkwood, fireman, who deposed that on the morning of the accident he was desired by the engineer to put the engine into the house; while going over the Prospect-street crossing for this purpose, he heard a man shout "Hold on;" stopped immediately, and went to see what was the matter; saw the deceased lying on the track before the engine; a long pole only shut up the wagon way from the line; could not say whether the man in charge of the pole was there or not; could not tell from which side the deceased came; felt no jar of the engine; the bell was rung at the time; a fatal accident occurred once before while witness had charge of an engine; firemen frequently did engineer duty in backing trains; even if the four men looking after the crossing did their duty, a man might come on the track unknown to them. James Walsh, a switchman on the Erie Railroad, deposed that he called on the driver of the engine to stop, but it was too late; the wheel of the locomotive had already passed over the man's head; when first told to stop the man was falling under the wheels which subsequently rolled over his head; his body was dragged onward twenty-two feet; when deceased was struck the gate or pole was across the wagon-way; a man crossing there should look about him, there are so many trains running; despite the warning of men at the gate, people go on the track; gates would be better protection than a pole; a man would be kept busily employed watching the crossing; no man is kept there specially for that purpose. Other witnesses were examined who swore the engine bell was not rung at the time of the accident, and that instead of a single pole there should be gates at the crossing. The jury found that RING came to his death by neglect of the Erie Railroad in not having gates at the crossing, and censured the Company therefor.

Opening of the College of Physicians and Surgeons.

The usual formal opening of the sixty-second course of lectures of the College of Physicians and Surgeons took place last night in the lower lecture-room of the College, corner of Twenty-fourth-street and Fourth-avenue. The President, Prof. EDWARD L. DELAFIELD, occupied the chair. The room was well filled, a small portion of the audience consisting of ladies. The proceedings were opened with a prayer by Prof. HITCHCOCK. The President then in a few words extended a cordial welcome to the members of the class, and introduced Prof. BUMSTEAD, who delivered the annual address. He addressed the class specially and made the object for which they were thus assembled the subject of his remarks. He contrasted the short term of study required of students in this country with the protracted terms in European colleges and showed the necessity for the utmost diligence. He marked out a general division of the studies of the three years of the curriculum, and gave much useful advice as to the method of pursuing them. He advised the study of the French and German languages, as so much of medical literature is written in these languages. The boarding-houses, theatres and churches of this City, he said, afforded opportunities for becoming familiar with the languages. The hours of study were next spoken of, and the Professor advised that not more than two or three a day should be devoted to reading, and that at least two hours a day should be devoted to active exercise in the open air. He concluded by saying that the monitorial system of the college did not contemplate any other incentives to study than the student's sense of the reality and earnestness of life; that the Faculty simply furnish all the means, and it remains with him to use them.

Prof. MCLANE then announced the order of the lectures, which begin at 10:30 o'clock this morning, and the exercises closed with the benediction, pronounced by Prof. HITCHCOCK.

Fires Yesterday.

About 3:30 o'clock yesterday morning, flames were discovered in the sub-cellar and rear portion of the four-story building No. 38 Cortlandt-street, occupied by OLNEY & Co., manufacturers of gas fixtures and glassware. The firemen succeeded, by prompt attendance to the alarm, in extinguishing the flames before they reached the second floor. Messrs. OLNEY & Co. estimate their loss at $20,000; covered by an insurance of $35,000 in the Home, Tradesman's, Phœnix, Merchants', Bowery and other Companies, on stock, and the Merchants' have an insurance of $2,500 on fixtures. The second floor is occupied by RAUSCH & Co., boot and shoe dealers, and they sustain a loss of $10,000 by fire and smoke; covered by insurance as follows: Albany City, $5,000; Commonwealth, $5,000; Western, of Buffalo, $5,000; Phœnix, $2,500; Hope, of Providence, R. I., $2,500. The third and fourth floors are occupied by PARSONS & Co., shoe dealers, who sustain a loss of $500; insured for $10,000 in the Norwich, of Connecticut, Albany City and Lafayette. The building is owned by DANIEL ROBERTS, who sustained a loss of $10,000; insured. The flames are believed to have originated from a stove in the sub-cellar. Fire Marshal BRACKETT will make the proper investigation.

At 11 o'clock yesterday morning a fire occurred in the old Trinity School buildings, Nos. 74 and 76 Varick-street, which resulted in considerable loss. The first and a part of the second floors are occupied by L. M. DINSMORE as a furniture and bedding store, and he sustained a loss of $300 by fire and water, covered by an insurance of $3,000 in the Grocers' and Firemen's Fund. The third floor was occupied by the New-York Turn Verein Society as a gymnasium, and their loss is estimated at $500; no insurance. The Trinity Corporation own the buildings, and they are damaged to the extent of $1,000, fully insured. Mr. G. A. BEVINGTON, decorator of china, occupied part of the second and third floors; loss $200; insured in the Atlantic, of Brooklyn.

He was also ordered personally to inspect every evening all cells, see that they are securely locked, and that all visitors be excluded from the prison.

GENERAL CITY NEWS.

THE DISELDORF CASE.—An inquest was held yesterday by Coroner ROLLINS at the Morgue over the remains of JOSEPH DISELDORF, whose death, under peculiar circumstances, has already been published. It will be remembered that the deceased was at a party on Monday night at No. 502 Sixth-avenue, and after drinking heavily disappeared from the saloon, and was picked up in an insensible condition in Seventh-avenue by a policeman, death occurring on Wednesday at Bellevue Hospital, from compression of the brain, caused by a fracture of the skull. As there was no evidence to show that any violence had been used toward the deceased, they rendered a verdict that the injuries had been sustained by a fall while intoxicated. Mr. DISELDORF was a German, aged 50 years.

FIRE IN DUANE-STREET.—At 6 o'clock P. M. yesterday, a fire was discovered on the third floor of the three-story brick building No. 96 Duane-street, the floor being occupied by C. PECK & Co., manufacturers of neck-ties, whose loss was about $1,000. The second floor is used by E. COCHRAN, dry goods jobber, and by E. W. HYDE & Co., commission merchants. The first lost about $1,000, and the latter $500. The first floor is occupied by J. BRONNER, dealer in cloths, who was damaged $200, and the basement by K. G. ROCKWELL, blank books and stationery, whose loss of $300 was occasioned chiefly by water. None of the occupants were in the building at the time of the fire, and no facts as to insurance could be ascertained. The building was injured to the amount of $500.

THE RECENT SECOND-AVENUE FATAL ACCIDENT.—An inquest was commenced yesterday by Coroner FLYNN in the case of RUDOLPH KNOEDEL, late of No. 24 Greenwich-street, who died in consequence of injuries received on Tuesday afternoon by being run over by a dummy engine on the Second-avenue Railroad line. Only three witnesses were examined, whose testimony showed that the deceased was riding on horseback on the avenue, and kept beside the engine for several hundred yards. As he reached Seventy-fourth-street the horse became restive, and so alarmed the deceased that he dismounted, and fell on the track and was run over. The inquest will be resumed on some other day.

THE RECEPTION OF GEN. MCLELLAN.—The Common Council, it is understood, will take no part in the reception of Gen. MCCLELLAN beyond tendering him an engrossed copy of the resolutions adopted by the Common Council on Monday last. The Comptroller has no funds which can be applied to defraying the expenses of a public reception, and he declines, therefore, to advance any money for the purpose, or to render himself responsible for any expenses that might be incurred. It is not likely under these circumstances that Gen. MCCLELLAN will hold a public reception either in the City Hall or elsewhere, as was at first contemplated.

FIRE IN HUDSON-STREET.—At 7 o'clock last evening a fire broke out on the first floor of No. 21 Hudson-street, occupied by W. & H. BAUM, merchant tailors, whose stock was damaged about $3,500. The remainder of the premises are occupied by the lessee, FELIX MARX, who loses by damage to the building $700, and on furniture $250. The first loss is covered by a policy for $8,000 in the Merchants' Insurance Company, and the furniture is insured for $1,500 in the Stuyvesant, and $2,000 in the Greenwich.

WELCOME BANQUET TO COL. H. WATKINS.—Col. HEZEKIAH WATKINS, of this City, was the recipient last evening of a banquet at DELMONICO'S, tendered to him by a select company of his personal friends, on the occasion of his return from a tour in Europe. Col. WATKINS, served with distinction throughout the war in the One Hundred and Forty-third Regiment, New York Volunteers, and was with SHERMAN in his great march. The affair last evening was very recherché in its character, and in its intellectual features proved one of rare interest.

BOARD OF EMIGRATION.—The semi-monthly report of the Labor Exchange, Castle Garden, dated Oct. 1, gives the following figures: The applicants for employment were 1,636—males, 957; females, 679. Orders of employers for laborers, 1,829—males, 1,106; females, 723. Persons employed, 1,596—males, 957; females, 639. Among these were 25 families, comprising 69 persons. The average rate of monthly wages agreed to be paid to males was $14; to females, $10.

AMERICAN INSTITUTE.—The regular monthly meeting of the American Institute was held last evening, Mr. GREGORY in the chair. Eight new members were elected. The Committee on Lectures reported progress. Twelve scientific lectures are to be given by men of eminence, in the scientific world, commencing next month. The first will probably be given by Prof. BARNARD.

LOSSES BY FIRE IN SEPTEMBER.—The aggregate losses occasioned by fires during the month of September, in this City, are stated by Ex-Fire Marshal BAKER to be $525,985, nearly double the losses in August. There were only twenty-eight fires and alarms.

A BOND ROBBERY.—On the night of Wednesday the premises No. 294 Third-avenue were entered by thieves, who carried off six $1,000 United States Five-twenty bonds. A reward of $1,000 has been offered by the owner for the recovery of the bonds.

COOPER INSTITUTE FREE SCHOOLS.—These schools are to be opened on Monday evening next.

BRIEF ITEMS.—As JOHN J. SUITE was driving through Great Jones-street, yesterday, the pavement in front of No. 56 caved in and seriously injured the horse.... MICHAEL MCCARTY, aged 13, of No. 178 Madison-street, was dangerously gored by an infuriated bull which had escaped from a drove.... JAMES SMITH, a 'longshoreman, of No. 115 Charlton-street, had a leg broken on board the steamship Manhattan, at Pier No. 46, North River. He was sent to the New-York Hospital..... An affray occurred yesterday in PETER MITCHELL'S liquor store, at the corner of Green and Bleecker streets, between JAMES CASEY, HUGH DOUGHERTY and another man. A pistol was fired during the disturbance, but no one was wounded. DOUGHERTY and CASEY were arrested.... FRANK WOOD, aged 29, died suddenly yesterday at No. 9 Mulberry-street.... JAMES SMITH, aged 18, endeavored to escape arrest yesterday by leaping from a third-story-window of No. 242 East Fortieth-street, when he dislocated a hip. He was sent to Bellevue Hospital.

BROOKLYN NEWS.

A THIEF CAUGHT IN THE ACT.—Yesterday afternoon, as Detective FROST, of the Central Office, was walking down Fulton-street, near the corner of Orange, he observed a man with a coat under his arm proceeding at rather a rapid pace toward the ferry. Immediately suspecting by the manner of this fellow that he was a thief, and in order to satisfy himself on this point, FROST walked up the street to KETCHAM'S clothing-store, corner of Pineapple-street, where he ascertained that a coat valued at $35 had been stolen from the front of the store but a moment previously. He thereupon darted down the street after the suspicious character, who observing him approach, dropped the coat and took to his heels. FROST, however, soon overtook the man and arrested him. At the Central Office it was found that the prisoner (who gave his name as WM. SHARP,) wore a coat which, as charged, had been stolen from a store in Linden-avenue. A knife, which he held in his hand, was also taken from him, after which he was locked up in the Washington-street Station-house to answer.

FIRE.—Last evening, about 6:30 o'clock, a fire occurred in a large brick stable in the rear of No. 134 Johnson-street, belonging to TUNIS G. BERGEN, of New-Utrecht, and occupied by GEORGE JEIN and A. H. CAMPBELL. The horses, five in number, were gotten out in safety. The damage to building amounts to about $1,000; insured. The occupants lose about $200 each; no insurance. The carpenter shop of THOMAS EDWARDS, adjoining, was damaged to the amount of about $200. The fire is supposed to have been of incendiary origin. This is the fifth stable that has been set on fire in the Western District since Monday last.

CONFLICT OF RAILROAD INTERESTS AT HUNTER'S POINT.—The Brooklyn City, Hunter's Point and Prospect Park Railroad Company having undertaken to lay rails in Ferry-street, Hunter's Point, are opposed by the Long Island Railroad Company, who claim that they own the property occupied by the roadbeds of the former Company. On Wednesday this opposition took a serious shape, and a conflict between the opposing interests being imminent, a platoon of men from the Forty-seventh Precinct entered the field to preserve order, but during the night, the employes of the Long Island Road succeeded in spiriting away the material of the other road, and a search warrant was obtained for its recovery. The contractor of the Brooklyn Railroad was afterward arrested, with twenty-five of his men, on a charge of trespass, and arraigned before Justice MADDEN. The workmen were discharged, and the contractor, Mr. BULLOCK, held to answer.

NEW-JERSEY.

RAILROAD ACCIDENT—VERDICT CENSURING THE RAILWAY COMPANY.—In the case of NATHAN NICHOLS, killed by the recent collision on the Morris and Essex Railroad, Newark, the jury found "that the heavy train attached to the engine Oxford, in consequence of the steep grade, becoming unmanageable by the engineer, ran down the steep grade upon this misplaced switch and collided with the engine Dover, which stood thereon: and that the managers of the Morris and Essex Railroad Company are censurable for permitting such heavy trains to come down the grade, and also for not keeping a switch-tender to attend properly to the switch, and this jury would recommend that the said Company place a signal-light at High-street, similar to the one in Broad-street."

A BOARDING-HOUSE THIEF.—A man named FRANCIS WILSON, who stated that he came from the New-England Hotel, New-York, went, on Wednesday evening, to the house of Mrs. EMILY B. MERREN, Garden-street, Hoboken, for the purpose of engaging board and accommodation. Mrs. MERRIN desired him wait in the drawing-room until such time as she could have a furnished room cleaned out. He accordingly waited, but when the lady returned she missed her pocket-book, in which were five $10 bills, and immediately accused WILSON of having taken the money. He denied it, and a scuffle ensued. He effected his escape, however, but was subsequently arrested, and the money found with him. Judge POPE committed WILSON for trial.

SALE OF VILLA SITES AT PERTH AMBOY.—The sale of real estate at Perth Amboy, by A. MELLECK, Jr., & BRO., went off vigorously, the entire 1,200 city lots being disposed of. The property belonged to the Middlesex Land Company. The lots brought from $80 to $200, according to location, and passed into so many different hands as to suggest the sudden uprising of a new city, if purchasers will only follow up by building. After the sale some three hundred persons were handsomely regaled at the Brighton House.

DIED OF APPOPLEXY.—About a week ago, a Mrs. EARL, of New-Durham, died under what were considered suspicious circumstances. Her husband and she had not lived in the most amicable manner, and it was alleged that he had kicked her down stairs and thus caused her death. An examination, however, of the body was made, which showed that the woman died of appoplexy, and, therefore, Coroner WHITE did not think an inquest necessary.

DRUNKARDS.—Two old topers were brought yesterday morning before Judge ALDRIDGE, of Hudson City, and charged with drunkenness. One of them, Mrs. JAS. RAMSEY, was sent to the County Jail and Workhouse for three months, while the other, DANIEL HAVERTY, gave bail for his future good behavior.

WAVERLY FAIR.—The third day of the State Fair at Waverly passed off most successfully. The chief attraction was the review of the New-Jersey Rifle Corps, Col. PLUME. The regiment numbered 230 men, had on gray uniforms, and was reviewed by Gen. SHALER. There were about 10,000 people present.

AN IMPOSTER.—A man named THOS. FARLEY was arrested in Jersey City last evening for having received money under false pretences. He obtained money from persons to whom he stated he lost his arm at Antietam, when the fact was he never joined the army, and had lost his arm in a railway accident.

KILLED.—A woman namd MARY WILLIAMS was run over and killed, yesterday, by a train at Newark.

RUPTURES CURED

DR. J. A. SHERMAN,

Artistic Surgeon, respectfully offers his services in the application of his Rupture Curative Appliances, at his office,

No. 697 BROADWAY, CORNER FOURTH-ST.

The great experience of Dr. SHERMAN, resulting from his long and constant devotion to the treatment and cure of this disease, assures him of his ability to relieve all, without regard to the age of the patient or duration of the infirmity, or the difficulties which they may have heretofore encountered in seeking relief. Dr. SHERMAN, as Principal of the Rupture Curative Institute, New-Orleans, for a period of more than fifteen years, had under his care the worst cases in the country, all of which were effectually relieved, and many, to their great joy, restored to a sound body.

None of the pains and injuries resulting from the use of other Trusses are found in Dr. Sherman's appliances; and, with a full knowledge of the assertion, he promises greater security and comfort, with a daily improvement in the disease, than can be obtained of any other person or the inventions of any other person in the United States.

Prices to suit all classes. It is the only, as well as the cheapest, remedy ever offered the afflicted. Photographic likenesses of cases before and after treatment furnished on receipt of two three-cent stamps.

Waltham Watches.

For a few months past we have advertised the above Watches at EXTREMELY LOW PRICES, and the result has been most satisfactory. Our plan has been to sell the genuine WALTHAM WATCH, in Solid Gold or Silver Cases, and at a very small profit; giving the purchaser every opportunity of examination and comparison, and with the understanding that if the Watch does not prove satisfactory, it can be exchanged or the money refunded.

These Watches are, without exception, the most perfect specimens of fine mechanism ever produced in any country. Each and every part is made by machinery of the most delicate and elaborate construction.

Compared with foreign watches, they possess many advantages, excelling not only in principle and finish, but still more in their reliability as time-keepers. As an indication of the prices we submit the following:

Silver Hunting Watches	$18 00
Gold Hunting Watches, 18 karat case	80 00
Gold Hunting Watches, ladies' size	70 00

EVERY WATCH IS WARRANTED BY SPECIAL CERTIFICATE FROM THE AMERICAN WATCH COMPANY.

We send them by express to any address, allow the purchaser to open the package and examine the Watch before paying, and if afterward it does not prove satisfactory, it can be exchanged or the money will be CHEERFULLY refunded.

SPECIAL NOTICE.

Since the 1st of September several valuable improvements have been added to all the Watches made by the American Watch Company at Waltham, and we invite an examination of the various styles from all who are in search of a reliable TIME-KEEPER.

We will send a descriptive list to any address upon application.
